GOVERNMENT MAJORITY OVER 240

CABINET CHANGE INEVITABLE

EDEN EXPECTED TO BE WAR MINISTER

BALDWIN MAY FIND SEAT FOR MACDONALD

London, Nov. 15.
The standing of the parties of Great Britain at 9.15 p.m. to-night, with sixteen results still outstanding, is as follows:
GOVERNMENT, 421; OPPOSITION, 178.
The Government consists of 379 Conservatives, 31 Liberal Nationals, eight National Labourites, two Nationals and one Independent. The Opposition comprises 153 Labourites, four I.L.P. seats, 16 Liberals and four Independent Liberals and one Communist.
Political circles are of the opinion that Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the Prime Minister, will try to find a seat for Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, who was defeated at Seaham. But it cannot be expected that he can find a seat for Mr. Malcolm MacDonald also, and the young Colonial Secretary will step down from office.

ELLIOT ELECTED
After the recount, Mr. Walter Elliot, the Minister for Agriculture, was declared elected with a majority of 140 over his Labour opponent.—Reuter Special.

The defeat of the two MacDonalds along with the retirement of Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, the Secretary for Air, and the coming retirement of Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, First Lord of the Admiralty, means an early re-shuffle of the Cabinet.

CABINET SHUFFLE
It is assumed that Sir Philip will receive a peerage and that Lord Halifax will resign from the War Office. It is regarded as likely in political circles that Mr. Anthony Eden, present Minister for League of Nations Affairs and former Lord Privy Seal, will become the War Minister.
With regard to rumours that Mr. Winston Churchill may become a member of the Cabinet, it is pointed out that such an appointment would cause to arise many other questions besides those of a political nature. However, there is evidence that Mr. Baldwin intends to include him in his Cabinet provisionally.—Reuter.

EARLIER STANDING
London, Nov. 15.
With only 26 election results outstanding, the Government parties have mustered 420 seats in the next Parliament and the Opposition has gained 176, according to 5 o'clock estimates.
Conservatives captured eight and lost 79 seats, the Liberal Nationals gained two and lost seven, National Labour gained one and lost seven and Nationals gained one and lost two. Labour Opposition gained 99 and lost four, Independent Labour gained one, Liberals gained three and lost 14.
The sole Communist victory was at West Fife, Scotland.

21,000,000 VOTES
At 5 o'clock 21,000,000 votes had been counted, giving the Government a surplus of 1,400,000.
Only seven out of sixty-five women candidates were returned, six of whom were Conservatives and one Labour.
Captain E. A. FitzRoy, Speaker of the House of Commons, who refrained from participating in the electioneering campaign despite Labour's break with the recent practice of not contesting the Speaker's seat, was returned at Doncaster with a majority of 8,107.
NARROWEST RESULT
The narrowest result was at Kelvin Grove, where the issue in

CANADA AND U.S. TREATY

STATESMEN SIGN TRADE PACT DETAILS NOT DISCLOSED

Washington, Nov. 15.
Mr. Cordell Hull, the Secretary of State, and Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King, the Prime Minister of Canada, signed the Canada-United States trade treaty to-day in the presence of President Roosevelt and the whole American Cabinet.
It was almost unprecedented that the United States Cabinet should participate in such a ceremony.
While motion picture cameras whirled, the Ministers stood in a semi-circle around President Roosevelt, who was seated at his desk.
Mr. Hull and Mr. Mackenzie King signed two copies each but the treaty was not for the eyes of correspondents, who clamoured for details. It will not be published for at least two days.—Reuter.
SET EXAMPLE
Washington, Nov. 15.
Mr. Cordell Hull and Mr. Mackenzie King, the Canadian Prime Minister, to-day signed the reciprocal trade agreement for the United States and Canada.
In a subsequent statement, Mr. Hull said: "The tariff reforms represent progress in the opposite direction to economic suicide and is an example of what must be done to bolster the world's economic relations as a foundation for world peace."
The contents of the treaty remain a close secret but may be made public next week. However, American lumbermen are suspicious that protective lumber tariffs have been sharply reduced.—United Press.
Still in doubt, Mr. Walter Elliot, Minister of Agriculture, was returned with a majority of two against Labour, but a recount is proceeding.
Two hundred ballot papers from one box were declared spoiled in this contest because the official stamp was impressed on the counterfoil instead of on the papers themselves.
One of Labour's chief successes was in Durham County, where it captured the whole eleven divisions as before 1931, when it lost nine.—Reuter.

This picture shows at the extreme left the Italian troopship the S. Saturnia, laden with 5,000 Italian soldiers bound for Eritrea, passing through the Suez canal as two British warships, the cruisers Resolution and Bahrat, lie anchored at right. The British ships gave no customary salute of respect to the Italian vessel.

NORTH CHINA CRISIS

AUTONOMY TO BE DECLARED?

ACTION THIS WEEK-END

(Special to "Telegraph")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 15, 10.20 a.m.)
Tokyo, Nov. 15.
The Nippon Dempo correspondent at Peiping and Tientsin have sent messages to the effect that well-informed quarters are convinced that North China autonomy will be proclaimed before Monday.
Tokyo opinion is identical.
However, official opinion remains unexpressed. All Government sources are silent.—United Press.

ANGLO-U.S. CO-OPERATION

London, Nov. 15.
Well informed persons here forecast closer Anglo-American co-operation at the December 5 Naval Conference, due to President Roosevelt's October 5 pronouncement that the United States will not interfere on behalf of American traders with any possible League of Nations' blockades against aggressors.
This is interpreted as the abandonment of the traditional American insistence of the freedom of the seas, and a guarantee that United States will not intervene against nations seeking to impede American war-time commerce, thus removing a possible cause of Anglo-American misunderstanding.
The second factor indicating Anglo-American co-operation, is Japan's apparent bid for Far Eastern supremacy, which jeopardises British and American interests in that part of the world.—United Press.

GRAND DUCHESS DIES IN PARIS

WIDOW OF FAMOUS RUSSIAN GENERAL

Paris, Nov. 15.
The Grand Duchess Anastasia Nicholasina, 67, widow of the Grand Duke Nicholas, of World War fame, and sister of the Queen of Italy, died here to-day.
She was one of the most distinguished women in the Russian of the Czar's regime and she had lived quietly in Paris in recent years, although taking a keen interest in world affairs and particularly those of Russia.—United Press.

DISCOURAGE EXPORTS TO ITALY

U.S. AUTHORITIES' DRASTIC STEP

(Special to "Telegraph")
Washington, Nov. 15.
The United States Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, to-day issued a statement, warning exporters and others that sales of oil, copper and trucks to Italy were directly contrary to the United States' policy.
This statement was regarded as the most drastic step taken by the United States since the first original and formal declaration of the commodities which were regarded as being essentially war materials, despite their not being actually implements of war.

Mr. Hull recalled that President Roosevelt warned that such trading would be done at the traders' risk. Also he recalled that on October 10 he made a statement discouraging trade with belligerents.
He said: "Americans were warned that certain commodities were essential war materials although not actually implements of war, and according to recent Government reports, a considerably increased amount of these have been exported to the participants."
"This trade is directly contrary to the policy of the Government and is also contrary to the general spirit of the Neutrality Act."
"The Administration is seriously observing the volume of export trade to these countries and with trade in a few days commodity experts will have completed a detailed list of all commodities exported to the belligerents, enabling an exact comparison with the same period last year to be made."—United Press.

CAIRO CLOSELY GUARDED

POLICE WATCHING WAFDISTS

AWARE PLOT AFOOT

(Special to "Telegraph")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, November 15, 9.20 a.m.)
Cairo, Nov. 15.
A strong force of police remains on constant watch in this city and has been called on fairly frequently to act to prevent renewed student outbreaks.
Police are guarding the mosques heavily and have had no difficulty in preventing the students from harranguing the worshippers.
Police have dispersed students attempting to parade the streets on different occasions.
Authorities have learned, however, that leaders of the Wafdist extremists are planning mass demonstrations against the Government. The anti-British faction is extremely active.
The Government has decreed the suspension of numerous newspapers found guilty of inciting disturbances by the publication of false reports of fighting and rioting.—United Press.

POLICE IN CONTROL

Cairo, Nov. 15.

Late to-day a Wafdist meeting voted to protest to the League of Nations against Great Britain's "interference" in Egypt's internal affairs.
The resolution asserted that Britain's 1932 declaration relinquished the Egyptian protectorate.
Meanwhile the police have easily quelled the scattered demonstrations.—United Press.

Stock Market Booming

RESULT OF NATIONAL PARTIES' WIN

London, Nov. 15.
The surprising strength of the Government in the General Elections brought a small boom in the London Stock Exchange here to-day.
Some industrial, gilt-edged stocks and war loans showed gains, while iron, steel, tobacco, breweries and rayons were very active and strong.
Exchange rates against sterling firmed throughout the world with the reports of the Government victory.—United Press.

PRIME MINISTER GRATIFIED

"WE SHALL GIVE ALL THAT IS IN US"

LABOUR DISAPPOINTED WITH RESULTS

(SPECIAL TO "TELEGRAPH")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, Nov. 16, 8 a.m.)

London, Nov. 15.
"The results are splendid," declared Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the Prime Minister, in a message to the country to-night. "The nation has expressed decisively its confidence in our will and ability to continue our works for national restoration and world peace."
"I am most grateful to those who laboured so unsparingly to achieve this success. We shall give all that is in us in the years ahead to justify the country's trust."

With only about a score of seats to fill the Government majority in the new Parliament may be estimated at about 250. The reduction of the majority, compared with the old Parliament, is regarded as likely to benefit the Commons and abolish the tendency to lethargy among the majority and the discouragement among the minority due to the overwhelming preponderance of National Government supporters.

AIRWOMAN ESCAPES DISASTER

FORCED LANDING ON SEA COAST

JEAN BATTEN FOUND

Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 15.
Miss Jean Batten, the New Zealand airwoman, has arrived here aboard a military aeroplane sent to fetch her by the Brazilian Government.
She landed at Araruama, a coast village, when her fuel supply was exhausted while on a flight from Port Natal to Rio de Janeiro. It was impossible for her to communicate with the outside world for some time, and for that reason fears were felt for her safety.
Her plane was slightly damaged in the forced landing she made at Araruama.
At Rio, congratulatory messages were awaiting her from many persons, including Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, who extended "the British Government's compliments on her achievement on a flying record-breaking time across the South Atlantic Ocean and from Lympne, England, to Port Natal."
Miss Batten's future plans are not announced, but it is expected that she will return to Araruama to obtain her machine when she has arranged for its repair.—Reuter.

LEAKY FUEL TANK

Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 15.

Miss Jean Batten arrived here twelve hours overdue.
A leaky fuel tank forced her down at Salinas and she spent the night with a fisherman's family.
She was brought to Rio by Captain Garibaldi Aquino, a Brazilian Army flier.
Miss Batten was uninjured when her plane nosed over while taxiing along a rough beach. The propeller was bent and the machine otherwise slightly damaged.—United Press.

The further detailed results from the British counties, with complete figures, will be found on Page 16.

While Conservative headquarters is gratified at the result of the election, which is better than they anticipated, Mr. Herbert Morrison, one of the prominent Labour leaders, acknowledges his disappointment at Labour's showing. "As a whole I had hoped that Labour would do better," he said.

DEFEATS EXPECTED

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's heavy defeat was expected generally, and the former big majority of Sir John Simon, Home Secretary, which was reduced to one of a few hundred, was not considered safe.

DISAPPOINTING

London, Nov. 15.
Mr. Clement Attlee, Labour Party leader, interviewed by Reuter to-night, said the result of the election considered merely in terms of seats won was disappointing.—Reuter.

The whole city, except the Place Clemenceau and the Pope's Palace, have been submerged in flood waters from the rising Rhone River.
The flood level exceeds the record for seventy years past. Wide areas are affected. Country folk are taking refuge in trees. In some parts there is a serious food shortage and sappers are distributing supplies in boats.—Reuter Special.

LASSETER'S REEF FOUND

JAPAN'S

Lost Eldorado Of Central Australia

GOLD PROSPECTORS FIND FAMED MINE

Adelaide, Nov. 1.
HAS Lasseter's Reef, Australia's lost Eldorado, been found?

This question is being asked here following return to Adelaide to-day of an expedition which went into the Australian wilds in search of the lost reef.

The expedition have come back with rich specimens of gold-bearing ore.

They refuse to disclose where the ore came from. But they admit that they have pegged out large areas.

The story of Lasseter's Reef has excited prospectors in Australia for more than 30 years. Young Harry Lasseter, lost in the Australian wilds, found a reef "with yellow stuff in it as thick as plums in a pudding." He gathered a few specimens and set off along the trail back to civilisation.

Discovery—Despair

But he became lost. He was found by an Afghan camel driver, raving with thirst, but still clutching his bag of gold.

Lasseter was nursed back to health, but it was years before he dared to face the desert again. When eventually he set out he failed to find his bonanza.

Years passed, and once more Lasseter set out, this time at the head of a well-equipped expedition. For weeks the expedition searched, and eventually abandoned the attempt. Lasseter, however, carried on with one companion, saying, "If I don't find the reef I won't come back."

One day he found familiar landmarks. He sent his companion to Alice Springs with the news, while he pressed on alone. He found his reef, pegged a claim, photographed it, and gathered more specimens.

Then his two camels bolted, and he was alone in the wilds without food or water.

For weeks he lived among hostile aborigines. Eventually his was left to die in the desert. A search party found his story, photographs, and specimens, buried beneath the ashes of his camp fire.

Since then, many expeditions have sought Lasseter's Reef, which, it is thought, may be at The Granites, 400 miles north-west of Alice Springs.—United Press.

June Knight's legs, acclaimed as Hollywood's most beautiful, were bound roughly to a chair in New York recently by bandits who made a £1,000 haul of jewellery.

Two well-dressed men called on Miss Knight, said they were representatives of the Metro-Goldwyn Films Company, and wanted her to endorse an advertisement.

They seized her, bound her legs and arms with the belt of her pyjamas to a chair, stuffed a towel in her mouth, did the same to her maid, then took the jewel box and

GIRL'S ORDEAL IN SHIP'S CABIN

STUDENT STRIPPED BY GERMAN OFFICIALS

"THIS IS GERMAN LAW" WAS CURT
NAZI EXPLANATION

BELFAST, OCT. 30.

A YOUNG BELFAST WOMAN EMBARKING AT HAMBURG AFTER A HOLIDAY IN BERLIN WAS TAKEN TO HER CABIN, OSTENSIBLY FOR THE USUAL CUSTOMS EXAMINATION OF LUGGAGE, STRIPPED NAKED BY A WOMAN OFFICIAL AND EVERY STITCH OF HER CLOTHING SEARCHED, APPARENTLY UNDER THE SUSPICION THAT SHE WAS SMUGGLING CURRENCY OUT OF THE COUNTRY. No money was found on her. No apology was tendered. A protest by one of the ship's officers was met by the curt reply: "This is German law."

The story of this astonishing action, which occurred four days ago, was told by Miss Mary Kane, of Eliza-street, Belfast.

She expressed her indignation at the undignified treatment meted out to her.

"I was three weeks in Berlin with friends," she said, "and nothing eventful happened. We were coming back via Hamburg and Grimsby on board the L.N.E.R. steamer Bury."

"When I went aboard at Hamburg a man told me to wait a few minutes. A German girl came along then and ordered me to my cabin. I assumed it was for the Customs examination, and had the keys of my trunks ready."

"When we got to the cabin, however, the girl proceeded to take off everything I had on me—my coat, my underclothing, even my stockings. Everything was examined."

"She searched the linings of my coat and hat—even my shoes did not escape. I still have no idea what it was all about."

Officer Indignant
"After it was over I put up one of my still unopened trunks for examination, but the girl did not even look at it. She left my cabin without saying a word."

"Afterwards I heard that three other people in the ship had been treated similarly. Why they should have picked on us out of all the passengers I cannot imagine."

"An officer of the vessel who spoke to me about it was most indignant, and promised that he would look into the matter. He told me I ought to have resisted the examination, or at any rate protested against it."

Miss Kane added that the officer seemed to be of the opinion that the man who tapped aboard and the girl who examined her in the cabin had followed the party all the way from Berlin.

They were married later in Mr. Serf's hotel suite in Phoenix, and afterwards both flew back to Hollywood.—Reuter.

TIMBERMEN'S ANGERU.S. WORKERS AND CANADA
RECIPROCAL PACT

Port Landore, Nov. 16.
Fifty thousand union timbermen and mill workers have threatened to strike as a result of their belief that the Canadian Reciprocal Pact will abolish the four dollar tariff per thousand feet of lumber. Furthermore they said that the longshoremen and teamsters will not handle Canadian lumber, thereby returning to the "hot cargo" issue of the north-west's labour issue.

The lumbermen charged that the pact discriminated in favour of the eastern industrialists who are seeking to sell machinery and automobiles to Canada, without a tax.

Mr. Abe W. Musir, Vice-President of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, and leader of the Unionists, said the campaign had no plans for violence.

However, he said, "I am not surprised if our shinglemen meet the Canadian shiplads of shingle and dump them into the bay."

He said that although the Canadian pact stimulated the boycott, the basic reason remained the lower Canadian wage permitting them to undersell Americans despite current tariffs.—United Press.

New

Factories

THE War Office has decided to shelve the question of moving Woolwich Arsenal.

It has been decided that as big expansions to the Army are to be carried out during the next few years, the removal of part of the Arsenal plant would interfere with the continuity of production.

This disorganisation, moreover, might occur at a time when it was important that the maximum output from the Arsenal should be available.

The War Office, however, is building new factories and extensions for munitions purposes in other parts of the country.

New Powder Factory

A new gunpowder and explosives factory is being built at Irvine, Ayrshire, while at the Royal Small Arms factory at Enfield new plant is being installed to produce several thousands of the new Bren machine-gun.

Large numbers of civilian factories are also being surveyed to see whether they can be taken over for munitions manufacture in case of emergency.

A new naval torpedo factory is being established in Scotland and a big depot for storing submarine mines is being built at Milford Haven, in Wales.

ROOF REPAIRS?

RITO pays for itself over and over again. In half the usual time and at a quarter the cost your man can make a permanent all-weatherproof job of those slates, tiles, gutters, downspouts, skylights, etc., which should be repaired now, while the weather is good.

RITO is a plastic roof repair compound which grips inseparably into all constructional materials and sets tough like rubber. To-day on thousands of roofs, including the Law Courts and the G.P.O., London, it is defying vibration, storms and atmospheric acids, thus proving its claim to be more permanent than the very roof it repairs.

BAPTIST CHURCH'S FINANCES

ROCKEFELLER JNR. WITH-DRAWS SUPPORT

New York, Nov. 16. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., announced to-day the withdrawal of his financial support for the Baptist Church. He stated that hereafter he would contribute only for "specific projects, chiefly interdenominational or non-denominational in character."

The information was conveyed in a letter written to the Northern Baptist Convention held on March 7 and which was later made public.

In the letter Mr. Rockefeller asserted that while he recognized the "significance and helpfulness of the ritual and creed as developed by the Baptists, he felt it incumbent upon him to make investigations in the near future." He stated that denominationalism had become "a decisive force in the progress of organized Christian work, and an obstacle in the development of the spirit of the life of Christ among men." Members of the Riverside Baptist Church, which Rockefeller withdrew his support from, held a meeting to discuss the matter. The result of his missionary inquiry held in 1928 at which the trustees of the church were present, was that the church was "a decided force in the progress of organized Christian work, and an obstacle in the development of the spirit of the life of Christ among men."

England's quiet countryside was turned into a veritable battlefield when the British army held large-scale manoeuvres near Woodset with the most modern of mechanized weapons. The occasion marked the institution of something entirely new in warfare—a robot army. Here are some 200 tanks, part of the section going through drills, awaiting orders to move along the country road.

This is the first picture of Bennett Cerf, New York publisher, and Sylvia Sydney, screen actress, following their surprise wedding at Phoenix, Arizona. Honeymoon plans are in abeyance while Miss Sydney completes her starring role in a forthcoming picture.

Here are new photos from the Isle of Sark in the English Channel, where, it was reported some months ago, two Canadian millionaires would find haven from high taxes. Millionaires in other countries have evinced their interest, and so the spotlight is turned on the Isle of Sark in the Channel Islands group of Great Britain, where taxes are nil. The layout above shows Mrs. Robert Hathaway (La Dame de Sark) and her husband, in the garden of their home, La Seigneurie, and the little harbour of Le Creux, said to be the smallest in the world.

Heavy storms on the Atlantic and in English Channel did much damage to shipping and caused loss of many sailors' lives. At top the gale-battered freighter Brompton Manor limps into Southampton, England, on the end of a towline from a pair of tugs. The 100-mile-an-hour "hurricane" which swept the English Channel almost sank the Manor. The vessel's 27-year-old master, Captain Harry Turner, was lost when a mighty sea tore away the entire bridge and swept it overboard. The ship drifted for two days before she was located by a destroyer. The ship's flag flies at half mast for her lost skipper. Below, the freighter s.s. Ardgantock is shown sinking outside Dover after her cargo of iron had shifted during the gale. The crew was saved.

CINEMA NEWS

NOTES FROM THE THEATRES

The brightest spot of light entertainment in town can be found at the Queen's Theatre to-day where "Every Night At Eight," will hold audiences
one and all in merry musical sway!
Highly hilarious, with tuneful, toe-tapping tunes and an originality of story that is refreshing as an air-cooled theatre on a sweltering summer day, "Every Night At Eight" proves to be a blues-chasing, heartwarming piece of funny business as has come along in a month of musicals.
The picture opens on a gay
note with Frances Langford, Alice Faye and Patey Kelly as stenographer, switchboard operator and bottle
packer respectively in a mint Julep factory getting fired from their jobs for practising their harmony singing in the boss's office. Broke and homeless they decide to try their luck as singing trio on an amateur hour. At the radio station they lose the prize to George Raft who appears this time in a new kind of dramatic role, that of a conceited band leader. Attracted to the girls and seeing their possibilities, he starts them on their career as the Swanee Sisters. He builds them up to be a trio of sweet, unsophisticated southern girls, makes them dress alike, look alike, and in general manages their lives for them.
There is a series of sparkling events
then a climax packed with thrills,
romance and action.

"Dante's Inferno"

Six hundred and thirty years ago in Italy, Dante Alighieri, a political fugitive, wrote "The Divine Comedy", which won him the rating of Italy's greatest poet. Some sixteen months ago, Fox Film executives decided to produce a modern version of "Dante's Inferno", which comes on Sunday to the King's and Alhambra Theatres.
When the script was finished, the executives turned it over to Producer
Sol. M. Wurtzel and Director Harry Lachman, bidding them to make it into a picture. Lachman went home eagerly to prepare it for "shooting", but within a week he was back at the studio, his face drawn and haggard and with a heavy, bewildered look in his eyes. He had been trying to picture what Hell looked like! In defence of his health, Lachman finally organised one of the largest pre-production departments on record, and took a vacation. When he returned to the studio he found that his staff had secured a complete set of Dore's illustrations of the Inferno. They had also painted several from Dante's descriptions, and a number of their own invention. From then on, the real work began. Thirteen months of it without a single foot of film being "shot". Sets were built and experiments conducted by some 4,950
technicians, architects, artists, carpenters, stonemasons and labourers.
In the laboratory, chemists and special effects men went to work attempting to achieve a sea of boiling pitch, a rain of fire, a sea of ice, suicide trees with human beings growing into them, a lake of fire and other minor tortures. At last the desired effects were perfected and lighted by 250 electricians who remained on the job constantly throughout the filming of the Inferno sequences. These shots were made separately, while the cast headed by Spencer Tracy, Claire Trevor, H. B. Walthall and Alan Dinehart, enacted the modern side of the show in a separate studio.

"Laddie" at the Star

"Laddie" has modestly bowed itself into the Star Theatre, but has firmly won its audience. One of the most popular and beloved of all novels,
"Laddie" has been a triumph of entertaining screen play, by the makers of "Little Women"; and so the famous Gene Stratton-Porter novel becomes one of the few best-sellers that has been given pulsing life on screen. Superbly acted, it is directed by the hand of a genius;
for it enjoys streaming action, plus an ingenuitous use of the cameras that is seldom met with in movies these days. It is the tale of the Indiana farm boy, Laddie Stanton, and of the English girl, "Princess," whom he loved; of how this son of the soil wins her heart, and at the same time establishes the nobility of toll an against the nobility of blood. In the title role is John Beal, winning even greater acclaim than in "The Little Minister." Opposite him plays Gloria Stuart, true princess in beauty and in ability. Another outstanding femi-line figure is Gloria Shea, principal figure in a secondary romance, and showing grand acting talents. Charlotte Henry, young actress beloved for her roles in "Alice in Wonderland" and "Babes in Toyland" is charming as Shelley Stanton.

"Our Little Girl"

They're calling "Our Little Girl",
Shirley Temple's greatest. This Fox Film picture coming to the Oriental Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday has been landed everywhere.
In this production, the first since the child screen wonder received the special award from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, she gives a powerful portrayal of a child's heart-break. "Our Little Girl" is a poignant story, tenderly conceived, frightened with heart-tugs yet leaving the audiences, from all reports, strangely happy. Alone Shirley Temple suffices to make any picture popular. But Producer Edward Bitcher has loaded "Our Little Girl" with talent. Rosemary
Ames plays Shirley's mother; Joel McGren, who needs no introduction, plays her father. "Poodles" Hanneford, world-famous clown and circus rider has an amazing act; he clowns,
rides, falls, and thrills in the circus
sequence which has everything complete from the wild animals to the big three-ring tent. Lyle Talbot, Erin O'Brien-Moore, Jack Donohue, continue the list of fine supporting cast.

"Stranded"

The most dramatic, and the greatest in heart interest of all the Warner Bros. service stories, "Stranded", next attraction at the Queen's Theatre, with Kay Francis and George Brent in the leading roles.
"Stranded" is stark drama, although there is comedy relief here and there,
just as there is humour in every walk of life. It centres about the life of a worker of the Travellers Aid, who only thinks in the luxury of humanity.
Shirley is in love with a hard-boiled engineer who is building the largest bridge in the world, and who considered human beings only as cogs in an industrial machine. The clash of characters is the strongest point in the story, although the action at times is fast and as thrilling as the wildest, melodramatic. Kay Francis, in the role of the Travellers Aid worker gives one of her greatest screen characterisations. George Brent is excellent as the unyielding engineer.
He seems to live the role and some of the scenes give him the best chance of his screen career. Patricia Ellis is wonderful as the villainess of the production. This is her first experience as a film menace and definitely lifts her out of ingenuitous roles.
Others in the cast worth mentioning
are Donald Woods, Barton Lane,
Robert Barrat, Joseph Crehan,
Frankie Darro, Mac Busch and John Wray.

"Love Me Forever"

Many reasons have been given by persons who went to the theatre two and three times to see Grace Moore in "One Night of Love". Most of them said they had gone because of Miss Moore's beautiful singing.
Others said the picture as a whole was grand entertainment. Still others said a picture as grand as
"One Night of Love" couldn't be made again, and that they might as well enjoy the film while they had access to it. But now that Grace Moore's new picture, "Love Me Forever", a Columbia film, now showing at the King's and Alhambra Theatres, has been released people are making the same statements again. According to all reports, "Love Me Forever" is far surpassing "One Night of Love" in every respect. Grace Moore, as the cane singer who eventually finds success and happiness, brings to the screen a vivid, colorful, acting personality. It is this experienced artistry that has endeared her to audiences the world over. Leo Carrillo featured with Miss Moore, plays the fiery gambler. His is the leading male role. Luis Alberni who was also featured in "One Night of Love" plays a comedy role, that of an excitable little Italian. Michael Bartlett, distinguished lyric tenor, sings opposite Miss Moore in several scenes.
Robert Allen, of the New York stage,
is also cast in an important role.
The balance of the supporting cast
includes such players as Spring
Byington, Douglas Dumbrille and Gavin Gordon.

MAKE-UP HINTS

By MAX FACTOR

Possibly it is charm you're after. Charm stressed above everything else. I used to wonder as a young man over there in Russia why so many great ladies of the court missed it by inches. Then one day the answer came to me suddenly. You cannot have charm where you have any artificiality or pretense. It depends principally on naturalness. That is why so many of the "siren" type are not charming. True, they're fascinating in their way, but they lack that warmth and sympathy which are the foundation of charm. You feel they are unreal when you look at them, with their heavy pallor and startling mouths.

So if you would have what Barrie terms a "bloom on a woman," be natural. I don't suppose there's a better exponent of that bloom than Kay Francis. The slant of her eyebrows remains the same as Nature intended it. Unplucked except for a stray hair or two. Of course she rubs cold cream well into them and brushes them back smoothly with a brush for that purpose—and they respond by behaving beautifully.

Charm Bow writes: "For the last six years I have used Max Factor's Make-Up and find it the only satisfying make-up on the market."

CHINA AND JAPAN

TOKYO SUSPICION OF CHIANG KAI-SHEK

Shanghai, Nov. 15.

Tokyo messages say that Marshal Chiang Kai-shek has shown strong opposition against the autonomy movement in North China for the separation of the five provinces north of the Yellow River from Nanking administration.

To check the fast spread of Japanese influence in North China Marshal Chiang is secretly seeking assistance of Soviet Russia, which is evidenced by the sudden and complete cessation of Communist disturbances in Sinkiang, Kansu, Shensi and Ninghsia.

The Nanking Generalissimo is suspected of having secretly massed his picked troops at Haichow for an opportunity to open hostilities against the Japanese.

Tokyo circles interpret the departure of General Shang Chen (Chairman of the Hopei Provincial Government) from Peiping for Paoting as an indication of his imminent resignation from his Hopei posts. General Shang's family has left for Shanghai from Peiping. The duty of preserving peace in Peiping and Tientsin may be taken over soon by General Sung Chieh-yuan, according to Tokyo observation.

Nervousness in Shanghai is unabated despite the absence of tangible developments.—United Press.

Peaceful Settlement

Nanking, Nov. 15.

In view of the Japanese attitude, the Central Authorities to-day decided to adjust peacefully all current Sino-Japanese controversies.

At the same time the military commanders were instructed to take every precaution. Confidential instructions were sent by General Chiang Kai-shek to Mayor Wu Tieh-chen to handle the latest Shanghai incident.

Similar orders were issued to General Shang Chen, Chairman of the Hopei Provincial Government, in dealing with Japan.—Union News.

The 19th Route Army

Shanghai, Nov. 15.

Former officers of the 19th Route Army are flocking here from Honan province after leaving the divisions under General Li Chih, chairman of the Hopei Provincial Government.

Generals Tsai Ting-kai and Chiang Kwang-nai, will shortly leave Hongkong for Nanking and will be given important commands.

The Nanking authorities have not decided whether the name 19th Route Army will be revived. Probably the soldiers will enlist under a new unit.—Union News.

Japanese Troops

Peiping, Nov. 15.

Nervousness in North China has been increased by reliable reports of the gathering of Japanese military forces at Shanhaikuan.

It is confirmed that one armoured train and one trainload of cavalry arrived there yesterday, while reliable sources to-day declare that the total of Japanese troops newly arrived at Shanhaikuan from Chinchow is in the neighbourhood of 2,500.

Chinese reports declare that they have taken over the waiting rooms at Shanhaikuan station, inside the Great Wall, for use as provisional headquarters.—Reuter.

Japanese For Shanghai

Tientsin, Nov. 15.

It is reliably reported that 3,000 Japanese troops have arrived in Shanghai on Thursday and more are believed to be on the way.—United Press.

Autumn Manoeuvres

Members of the Japanese embassy are not able to confirm the above but it is suggested that if it is true then it must be concerning the autumn manoeuvres.

DORADO ARRIVES

EXPERIMENTAL AND FLIGHTS

On this last of four flights between Penang and Hongkong under service conditions, the Imperial Airways plane Dorado arrived at Kai Tak aerodrome at 4.40 p.m. yesterday.

The Dorado left Penang at the normal schedule time on Thursday at 10 a.m. after making connection with the main service.

Crossing the Malay Peninsula the weather was quite good, but they ran into very heavy monsoonal rain-storms the whole way across the Gulf of Siam, a torrential downpour for the greater part of the Gulf crossing.

They met rain again in the southern part of Indo-China, but reached Saigon without trouble at 2.40 p.m.

They stayed overnight at Saigon, leaving there at 7 a.m. yesterday. A stop was made at Hue. The fliers then experienced good weather, making an excellent flight to Hongkong.

The Dorado will leave on Tuesday morning on her return flight to Penang.

Capt. Armstrong Interviewed

Interviewed by a representative of the S. C. M. Post on arrival, Captain W. Armstrong, commander of the Dorado, said:

"Our landing here to-day is the sixth that we have made in the colony, and it is the final of the series of experimental flights arranged by my Company to explore the possibilities of an air service between Penang and Hongkong, connecting with our main trunk line between England and Australia over Singapore.

"The route begins at Penang, off the west coast of Malaya, across the Malay Peninsula and the Gulf of Siam, and continues through Indo-China by way of Saigon and Hue, thence across the China Sea, skirting the island of Hainan to Hongkong—a total distance of over 1,600 miles.

"The scheme of our present flights provided for two return survey flights to be made in easy stages, taking two and a half days in each direction, and then for four return flights of one and a half day schedule which appears to be a reasonable one under actual service conditions, and which in fact were to make connection with our main line service and bring Hongkong within nine and a half days of England. The results have been highly satisfactory.

Schedule Maintained

"With one exception, when we stayed overnight at Hue for weather, arriving at Hongkong on the following morning instead of that evening, connection was made with all our main line services and schedule has been maintained in both directions exactly as planned.

"No particularly favourable season was chosen for these flights; on the contrary, weather conditions are probably at their worst in Malaya, across the Gulf of Siam and Indo-China, where at all these places heavy monsoonal rains have been experienced on many occasions.

"It can fairly be said, therefore, that this series of flights has been successful, and I hope that when the data accumulated has been submitted and considered, a regular service will soon be established."

30,000 Troops?

Tientsin, Nov. 15.

According to a report from railway circles, 30,000 Japanese troops have arrived at Chinchow on route for China proper. Locomotives at Chinchow are ready to transport the soldiers inside of the Great Wall.

A spokesman of the Japanese garrison to-day expressed satisfaction at the action of North China authorities in laying an embargo on the transportation of silver. He hinted that no silver would be shipped here to Nanking.—Union News.

A SANE ELECTORATE

Results have justified the National Government in seeking a renewal of confidence from the British electorate. As generally anticipated, the Baldwin Administration goes back to power with a reduced majority. In no quarter was it expected that the Government would maintain the overwhelming strength which it had in the last Parliament, but it is still left with a comfortable margin of power over all other factions combined. The result is a tribute to the sanity and level-headedness of the British people. Labour will be much more adequately represented in the next House of Commons, and some of its best and most capable leaders who lost their seats in 1931 will be back again to add to the power of the Opposition. This is as it should be, for government by huge majorities is never wholly satisfactory. Such opposition as the National Government encountered was mainly from the Labourites, since the Samuelite Liberals have long since lost their grip on the electorate, while the Lloyd George "New Deal" has never really taken on. The election has re-emphasised the virtual disappearance of the Liberals as a serious factor in British politics: they are too closely allied to the moderate Labourites and the more progressive of the Conservatives to be really effective. Labour fought the election unwillingly, as it found itself, in the main, in general agreement with its opponents on the main question of the day—the upholding of the authority of the League of Nations. In the absence of any weapon with which to wage warfare on this point, the Labourites have been concentrating on the Government's plans for increasing the nation's defence forces, contending that its attitude on this issue may provoke a gigantic armaments race. But Mr. Baldwin assured the voters on the eve of the election that the Government would not spend a penny more on the Services than is necessary for adequate national security. On the unemployment issue, Labour criticism of the Government notwithstanding, the public has long since realised that this is a problem which can only be solved by a general revival in world trade, and that no Government can, of its own efforts, cure the evil. In any event, during the tenure of the

DEATH, THRICE CHEATED WON THE LAST RACE.

THRICE in less than a decade newspaper editors all over the world have dug into their morgues and prepared the obituary of the world's greatest pioneer in long distance flights.

Twice Air Commodore Sir Charles Kingsford Smith has returned to confound them.

But the third time is apparently the last. For the intrepid Australian, the only man who has circumnavigated the earth across the equator in an aeroplane, has vanished, just as his co-pilot on the maiden flight across the Pacific, Charles Ulm, vanished between San Francisco and Honolulu a year ago.

"LADY SOUTHERN CROSS", the Lockheed Altair monoplane in which Kingsford Smith vanished last week over the Bay of Bengal, was the machine in which he successfully flew from Australia to California exactly twelve months ago.

The machine was purchased by Australian sympathisers in order to allow "Smithy" to participate in the Centenary Air Race. Departmental hitches in Australia and machine trouble in Queensland prevented him from reaching Mildenhall in time to participate in the race.

Then the whispers—that he had deliberately tried to evade participating in the race. "I know there are people who are saying I 'squeaked' the Centenary Air Race," Kingsford Smith said just before his

NOTES OF THE DAY

DANGEROUS FLIGHT

Flying from Port Natal to Rio de Janeiro, after crossing the South Atlantic in a record-breaking dash from London, the young New Zealand airwoman, like Kingsford-Smith and Ulm and many others, vanished into the blue. Not for long. She has been found, unhurt and unharmed. But she has added to the weight of opinion swelling up against hazardous flights which may not be entirely necessary. We have long contended that, while the work of the pioneer pilots has been necessary and praiseworthy, we have now reached a stage where greater security in the air is the essential upon which airmen and airwomen, and designers and engineers and all the rest of the trade, should concentrate. We know, now, that planes can cross the oceans, that a man or a woman can fly from Australia to England alone, that men and women can fly for a certain number of hours or a certain number of miles without sleep and with the minimum of food. We know that air services are practicable over continents, oceans, deserts and mountains, through rain or fog or hurricane. Even the arch-enemy of the airman, the low-laying winds, the blizzards of the North, can be conquered by experienced fliers. We have seen pilots conquer space and time and we have applauded. We have thrilled at the dangers their courage and stamina have surmounted. But we do deplore the apparently unnecessary chances the flying fraternity (or sorority) continues to take. This constant quest for records has about passed the stage of usefulness. If new air routes are to be charted, let the work be undertaken by organisations in whose interest it is to develop them. They have the equipment and the men, and they will not needlessly risk either.

Timor Sea, and finished the last 2,000 miles of their dash half across the world on a seized engine.

Smithy, choosing the shorter route from Wyndham to Melbourne—a route he knows so well, despite its impossibility on land, would have crossed Australia in 12 hours, as compared with Scott and Black's 27 hours.

found. Then, just as to-day is the twelfth day since Kingsford Smith disappeared over the Bay of Bengal, a Royal Australian Air Force plane, flying low over a jungle forest near the Forrest River, saw the machine below twelve days after it was first reported lost. Food was dropped to the starving airmen and the plane returned to Wyndham

BAD FOR INDUSTRY

We happen to know that one of the biggest commercial operating air concerns in the world frankly frowns upon independent "record-breaking" or "stunt" flights. Too often these adventures end in disaster. Too often a pilot losing himself makes it necessary for others to risk their lives on errands of mercy. And from a business (Continued on Page 16.)

National Government there has been a marked decrease in the number of jobless. In other spheres, also, the Government can point to a highly creditable record, notably in building up the stability of the national finances. A change of Administration at this juncture would have had disastrous repercussions internationally. As the election has turned out, the Government can go back to power well assured that it has the backing of the nation in the policies for which it stands both at home and abroad.

second Pacific flight. "I know I am 'in the gun' with a lot of good Australians who previously thought well of me.

"I'm human enough to want Australians to think well rather than badly of me. That is why I am going to attempt to fly the Pacific. And that is why, if my Pacific venture is successful and I can earn enough money to pay my backers for the plane, I will try to rehabilitate myself in the eyes of Australia by breaking Scott's record in the Centenary Air Race."

That Kingsford Smith has apparently lost his life in the attempt to rehabilitate himself adds poignancy to the drama of his disappearance.

Had disaster not intervened it seems certain that he would have lowered Scott and Black's record of 71½ hours for the flight from England to Melbourne.

Over the Bay of Bengal Smithy was only two hours behind the air race winners. But it will be recalled that they encountered engine trouble over the

It was on the route from Melbourne to Wyndham that Kingsford Smith was first lost.

In the famous old "Southern Cross" in which he had crossed the Pacific with Ulm and two companions, Smithy set out for Wyndham on March 30, 1929.

Just over a hundred miles from his destination, however, he was forced to land through lack of petrol. After twelve hours silence, planes set out to find the missing airmen.

Two close friends, Anderson and Hitchcock, followed the

A GREAT
AIRMAN

Sir Charles Kingsford Smith broke more records than any other airmen. One of his greatest achievements was in October 1933, when he flew from England to Australia in just over seven days, smashing all existing records.

His other great flights included:—

1927. Round Australia—7,000 miles in ten days.

1928. Piloted first and only machine to cross Pacific from East to west.

1928. 3,000 miles across U.S.A. in three days.

1929. Piloted first machine to reach New York across Atlantic east to west.

1931. Took first Christmas mail from Australia to England in thirteen days.

1932. Returned to Australia with New Year mail in fifteen days.

1933. Piloted first machine to cross Tasman Sea to New Zealand.

Last October Sir Charles flew 3,000 miles non-stop from Suva (Fiji Islands) to Honolulu on his great trans-Pacific flight.

1934. Piloted first and only machine across Pacific from west to east.

He is the only man who has flown entirely around the world, across the equator, the only man to fly both ways across the Pacific.

Mean while the search for "Southern Cross" and its occupants continued undiminished. Five days, six days, seven days passed and still no trace was to flash the glad tidings of their discovery—long after they had been given up as dead.

Replenished with fuel, "Southern Cross" resumed her flight to England, breaking all records.

YEARS later, "Southern Cross" reduced to taking joy-flight passengers to earn a living for her intrepid owner, was forced down in a dense Victorian jungle, hundreds of miles from the nearest habitation. No other pilot but Kingsford Smith could have landed the machine without striking a tree or crashing—no other pilot could have taken off again from the dangerous position in which it had landed, without a runway. He left his co-pilot and passengers in the forest, had a rope tied to the tail of the machine and revived the three engines up to their maximum. Then, as the Southern Cross strained to go, the rope was cut at a given signal, and the machine, with Kingsford Smith at the controls, made an almost vertical take-off, missing the towering gum trees by inches.

AGAIN, in May this year the "Southern Cross" and Kingsford Smith enacted one of the most remarkable dramas in the history of aviation.

En route to New Zealand from Australia with Jubilee air mail, one of the propellers was smashed 800 miles out at sea. His plane almost wrecked, Kingsford Smith fought a miraculous battle to reach land. The story is too recent to need recapitulation, but, by superb pilotage, Kingsford-Smith kept his plane above water, successfully landing at Mascot aerodrome after a flight that goes down in history as the most remarkable ever made by man.

SHORTLY after that adventure the old warrior "Southern Cross" was purchased by the Australian Government and now lies in a honoured position alongside the Vickers-Vimy in which the first flight was made from England to Australia fifteen years ago, in the Commonwealth Museum at Canberra.

But its former owner, the man who, with Hinkler, Parer, Ross Smith and Keith Smith, has placed Australian aviators in the history book of aviation, is dead—drowned in the mighty seas that claimed "Southern Cross's" co-pilot, C.T.P. Ulm, a year ago.

BULLS AND INNERS

From the Office Butts

Why blame the Government? It did take adequate steps to ensure that we should not be left without a nickel.

It is said that wine has been smuggled in books. Port-folios!

One thing in favour of the new currency notes. They do look like real money.

It is said that bathing has lasted longer than usual this year. Even so, we saw a flapper still learning how to swim last week-end.

About all some people have to retire on this year is their dispositions.

Speaking over the radio the other night, one of the Australian girls praised Kowloon. Several valves blew out on The Peak.

Hongkong certainly earned the "Ashes".

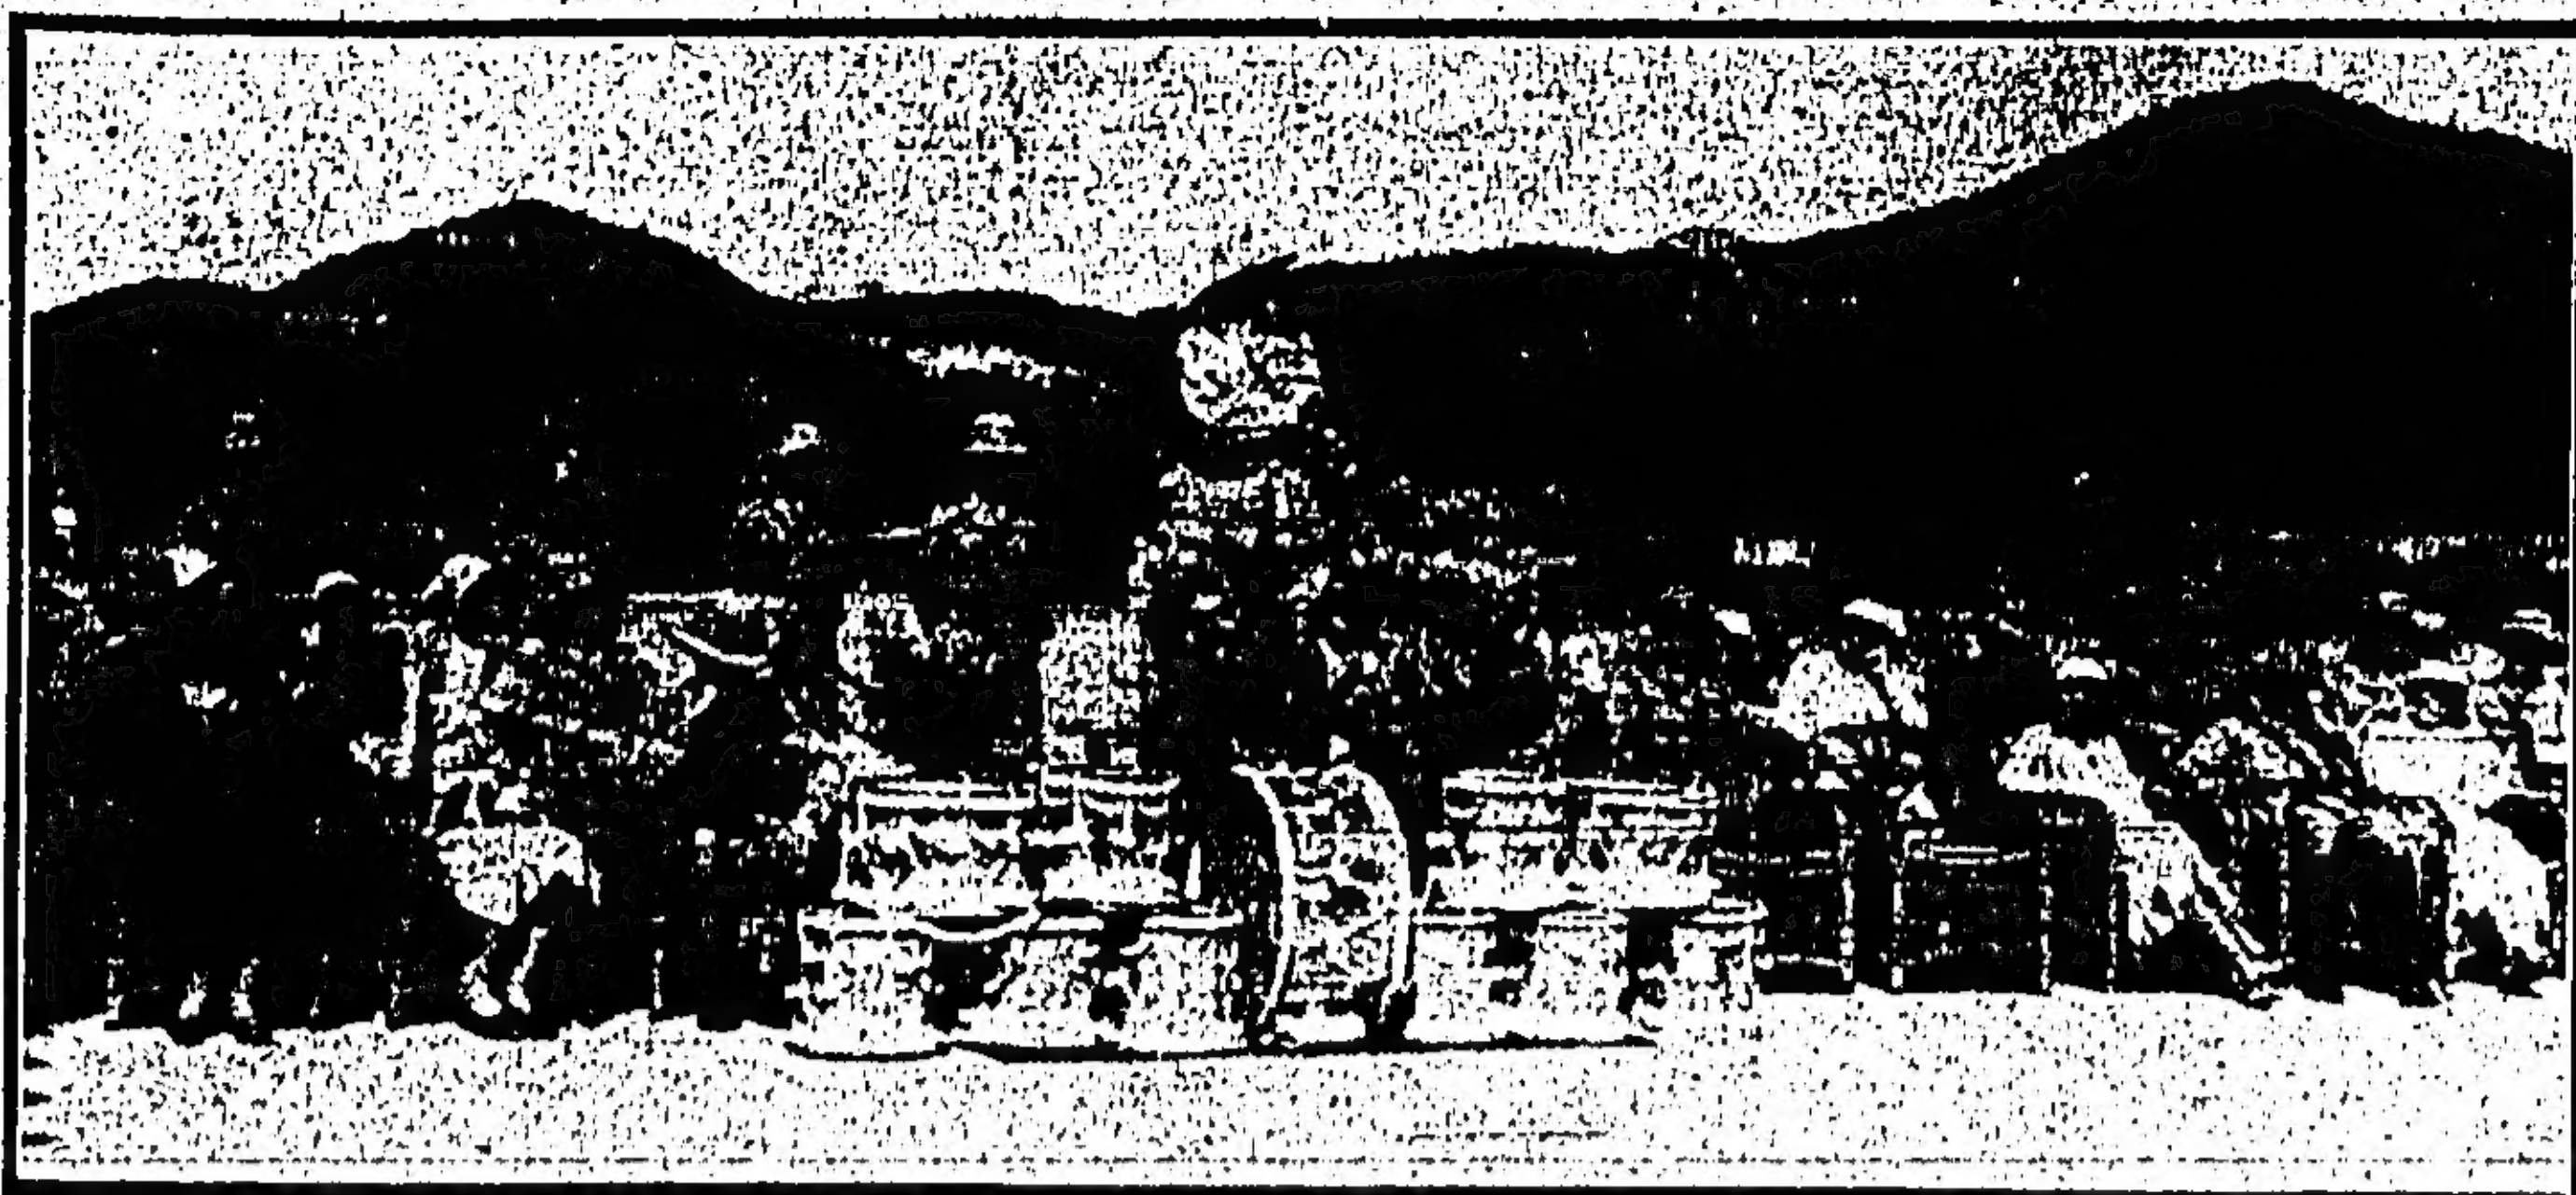

General Election: Major Event: Private Opinion.

If Dame Rumour is to be believed, Hongkong's new notes started off very high: they came by air.

We wonder how many of the new nickel coins will find their way into Christmas puddings?

"Now, mother, if you're going to talk to me like that, I'm going right home to my husband."

There's RESTFUL SLEEP
in every cup

Lower in price, hermetically sealed and untouched by human hand.

VITACUP

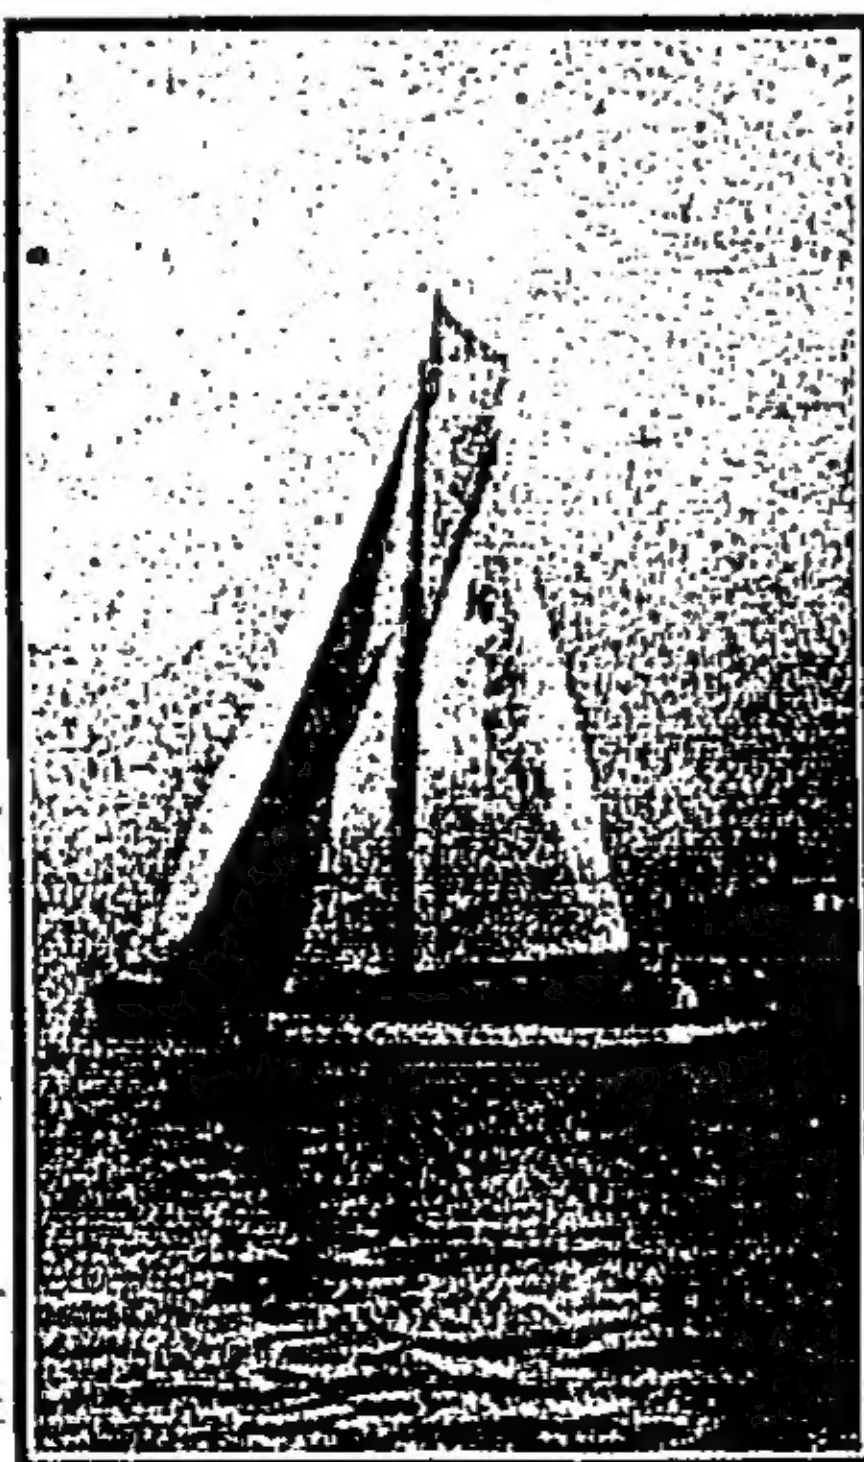

Is a delicately flavoured chocolate cup, made of malt, full cream milk and eggs—a wonderfully invigorating and pleasant form of nourishment which will keep your growing family strong and healthy and bring fresh vitality into your home. For old people, too, Vitacup is a sustaining and easily digested food drink that promotes sleep and rest, while it will provide you yourself with new energy to carry you through the longest and most tiring of days and still leave you fresh to enjoy the cool evenings.

Before going to bed drink a cup of Vitacup, (2 teaspoonsful to a cup of hot or cold milk or milk and water). Vitacup will ensure sound and restful sleep. As a regular morning drink it will carry you through the most tiring of days.

with his ROLLEIFLEX

DO YOU REMEMBER THE GREAT FILM
"THE LIVES OF A BENGAL LANCER?"

A famous film star uses a famous camera—and we feel sure it proved as successful as his other picture of the year, "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer." Rolleiflex is always the Choice of the discriminating. The Rolleiflex itself discriminates, too—no other camera tells you what to take and what not to take so plainly. A peep into the focussing hood tells you immediately whether your picture will be successful or not—it thus saves you from wasting film. Rolleiflex pictures do not need enlarging—a further saving. Lens stop and shutter speed can be seen and adjusted while composing your picture. Compur shutter speeded from 1 sec. to 1/500th is set and released by one lever, also Time and Bulb. Full provision for parallax compensation and numerous accessories make the Rolleiflex the most complete miniature camera, and easily the best value obtainable to-day. Fitted with F8.5 Zeiss Tessar Lens.

Empty Shells Without Any Fuses

WAR ARMS MUDDLE. REVELATIONS

Striking revelations about the supply of munitions in the early days of the Great War were made before the Arms Commission in London last month by Major-General Sir Stanley von Donop, who was Master-General of the Ordnance and a military member of the Army Council from 1913 to 1916.

Refuting what he described as a libel on the armament firms of England, the statement that they failed in their work in the early stage, he said there was never a shortage of shells, but they had no fuses and no explosives. Mr. Lloyd George called the shells "a lot of empty mugs."

As an example of the confusion that existed, Sir Stanley declared that on the Saturday before war was declared Mr. Asquith told him that he could not place orders for munitions, but the following Monday Lord Haldane said that he could.

"When I went to place the orders," added Sir Stanley, "they said they could not accept them as Mr. Churchill had ordered the whole of their supplies for the Admiralty on the Saturday—the day on which I asked Mr. Asquith."

After ten months the armament firms were manufacturing in two and a half days what they had usually made in a year.

Kitchener Laughed
Another point in Sir Stanley's evidence was that at the end of two months the newly-formed Ministry of Munitions had not placed a single order except for empty shells.

Sir Stanley related how at one of the first meetings of the Ministry of Munitions they decided to place the additional orders with private armament firms.

"When I met Lord Kitchener and told him of this decision he burst out laughing," added Sir Stanley. "Why," he said, "that is the very thing they have been abusing you for every single day since the war began, and now they are doing exactly the same thing."

Lord Kitchener, he said, was the only man who visualised the need for doubling the British Expeditionary Force.

GERMANY BANS ARMS TRADE

WARNING AGAINST CONTRAVENTION

Berlin, Nov. 15. The Government has announced that the ban on war materials, except under permit, if contravened will be punishable "with considerable sentences."

It is claimed that this regulation is very similar to that applied by other countries but that it does not discriminate against any particular country.—Reuter.

LOCAL DOLLAR RISES MARKET VERY QUIET

The official rate of the Hong-kong dollar rose a farthing this morning to 1s. 5½d. Business was done between 1s. 5½d. and 1s. 5¾d. The market was rather uncertain, but on the quiet side.

When the Prince of Wales arrived at the Gare de l'Est Paris on his way home to England after a holiday on the continent, photographers strongly resisted efforts of police, who refused to allow them to photograph the prince. (Photographers and police are shown struggling in the midst of the melee.)

SHIRLEY TEMPLE HAS TROUBLE WITH MATHEMATICS

Hollywood, Oct. 15. SHIRLEY TEMPLE is learning that you have to go back to school even if you are the world's favourite film star at the age of six and a half.

After her holiday in Hawaii, Shirley is back again in the special studio school that she attends. This is her second year at school, and her teachers find that she is a very good pupil—except in mathematics.

She cannot get the numbers right over 50, and that makes it hard to judge the value of money when you are on the decimal system. "Shirley can count perfectly up to 50," her teacher, Miss Lillian Barkley, told reporters at the school. "Above that she goes completely off the track."

"She still thinks that 47 cents is more than 50 cents."

750-Word Vocabulary
In all other subjects, Shirley Temple is far above the average for a child of her age. An intelligence test showed that she has a mental age of nine years and seven months—more than three years above her actual age. Her vocabulary comprises 750 words, all of which she can write. It is said that the average adult vocabulary is only 450 words. Many of Shirley Temple's words are technical cinema terms. She knows some French too, almost 150 words of it. Her film director knew nothing of this and had made arrangements for a French child to speak her lines for her in the French version of her latest film, "The Little Rebel."—Reuter.

SIGHING FOR THE MOON!

Blonde Anita Louise is sighing for the moon. The petite little actress has just revealed her reason for staying single. It is, she says, because her ideal man does not exist. She says the man she will marry must have: The charm and good looks of George Brent; the sensitive quality of Leslie Howard; the

RUINS MAY HIDE KING SOLOMON'S FABULOUS MINES

Johannesburg, Oct. 15. The secrets of mysterious Zimbabwe, the ruined relics of a dead civilization which for years have puzzled archaeologists, at last are to be probed by a scientific expedition, which will have the support of the Rhodesian government.

Prof. Raymond Dart, the anthropologist and discoverer of the Taung skull, who knows the ruins well, believes their secrets will be revealed.

The Zimbabwe remains of great buildings which lie near Victoria, Mashonaland, for half a century have been the centre of scientific controversy, both as to their age and their original purpose. They are believed by many to be the legendary mines of King Solomon, while others suppose they were fortresses attached to a great trading centre dealing in the products of the neighbouring gold mines. In the Towers of Silence which dominate the ruins, the dead of a once great civilization are believed to have been cremated.

"When we find their tombs," Dart declares, "we shall have a solution of the meaning of Zimbabwe."

The expedition is expected to work for five years. Since its discovery by Adam Renders in 1868, there have been a number of small explorations on the site, but nothing decisive ever has come from them. The new expedition, designed on a large scale, will penetrate further into the mystery than any hitherto.

sweetness of James Cagney; the suavity of Warren William; the human quality of Pat O'Brien; the sense of humour of Fredric March; the intelligence of Paul Muni; the voice of Dick Powell, and the rugged strength of Gary Cooper.

Hollywood thinks, if that is the case, Miss Louise will probably remain a spinster.

Children like to use Kolynos— and it whitens teeth so fast

You won't have to coax your children to brush their teeth if you let them use Kolynos. Because this dental cream that cleans teeth so bright and white is so pleasant to taste. It is refreshing. And too it keeps teeth white, clean and sound as no ordinary toothpaste can. Have your children use Kolynos twice every day.

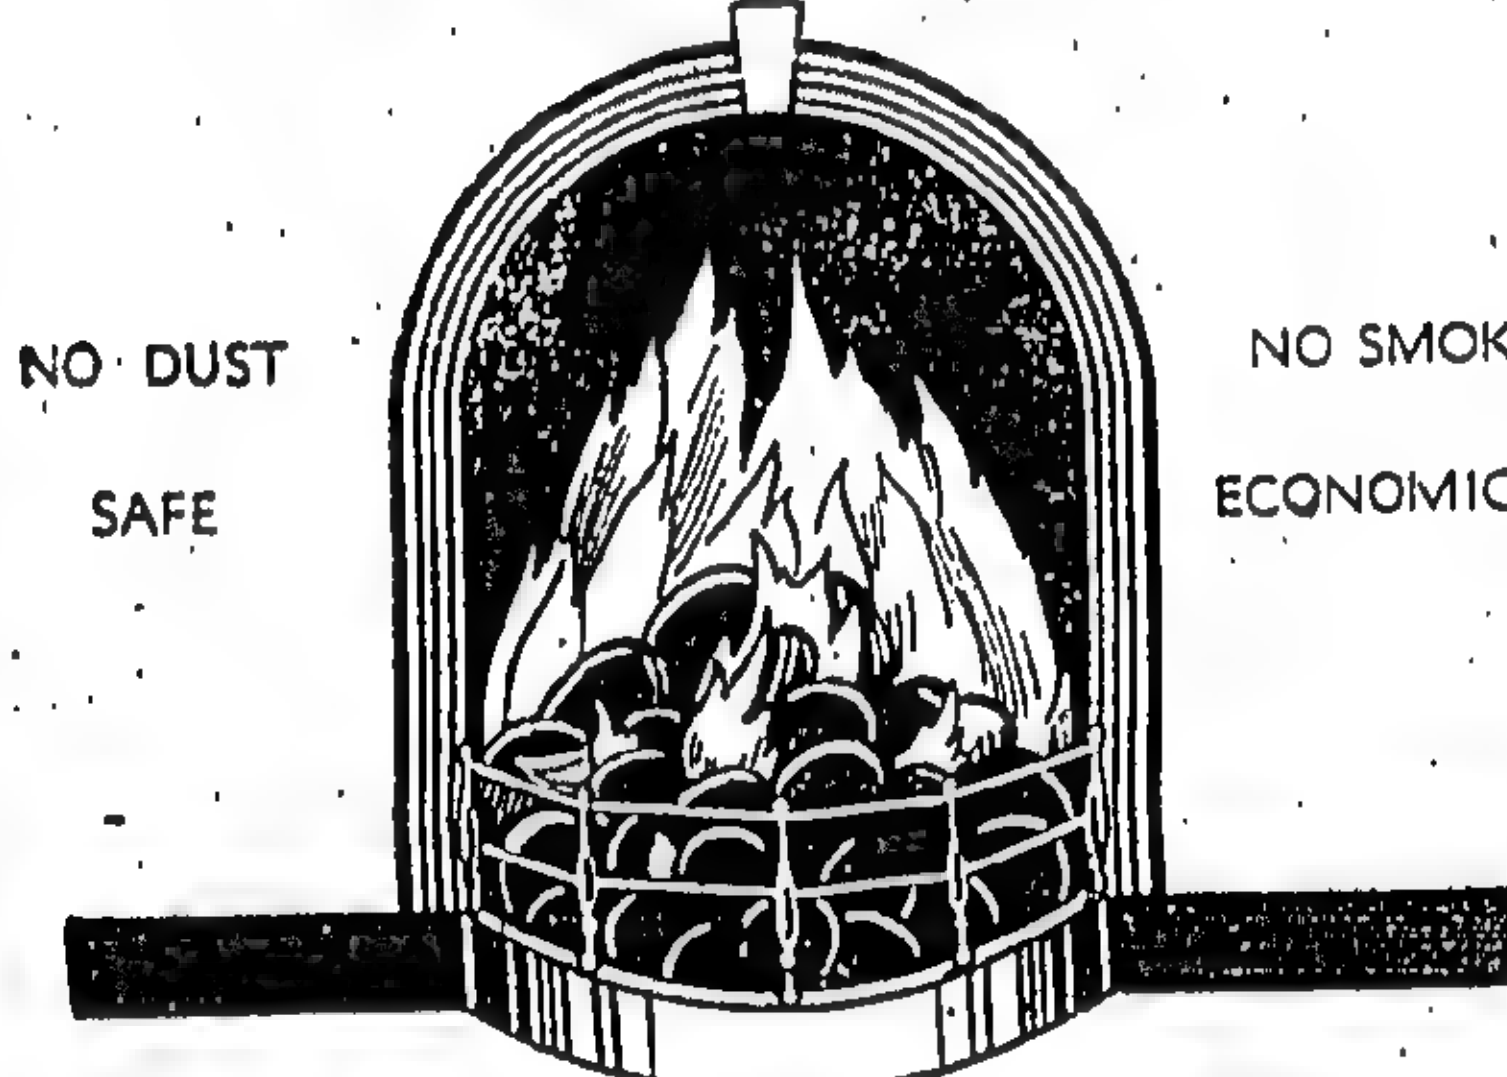

Because it tastes so good and protects the delicate gums and enamel.

HOUSEBOY DISMISSED

A summons against Tang Hong-chik, a houseboy employed at 3, May Road, third floor, for the alleged desertion of his fat wife, Lo Lan, since December 1934, was dismissed by Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, and defendant was discharged.

Mr. C. E. L. Grist appeared for complainant, and Mr. F. G. Nigel for defendant.

Mr. Grist said complainant had married defendant in November 1933 in Hongkong, and had then gone to his mother's house in the country. At the time defendant was employed as a houseboy in a residence in Hongkong at a salary of $30 a month, and he is still in the same employment. The defendant left the country after a week and returned to Hongkong, leaving complainant in the country. From then until December last he proceeded to make allowances of $15 to his family and $10 to his wife, for her own personal expenses. She had her food and lodging with defendant's mother, without having to pay.

Ceased Sending Money

In December last, defendant went back to the country to his mother's house with a woman, who was not known to complainant. He was asked who she was, but he gave no satisfactory explanation. He stayed there one night, and then left, returning to Hongkong. Shortly after he had sent the allowance of $10 to his wife, although he kept up the allowance of $15 to his family. At the same time his mother told complainant that she would have to provide for her own food, although she could go on living in the house. She continued living there, providing her own food by pawning her jewellery. She made repeated applications to defendant for money, but was refused. She eventually came to the end of her resources, and came to Hongkong and stayed with her sister, on whose charity she is living at present.

Evidence was then heard, after which Mr. Nigel submitted that he had no case to answer, as the evidence was insufficient to prove desertion. Mr. Schofield agreed, and discharged defendant.

INQUEST ON PRISONERDEATH FROM PULMONARY TUBERCULOSIS

A formal inquiry into the death of a prisoner, Leung Lam, aged 44, who died in the Victoria Gaol Hospital at 12.20 a.m. yesterday, was conducted by Mr. G. A. Macdonnell sitting as Coroner, at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, assisted by the following jury: Messrs. A. C. Johnstone (foreman), P. A. Frata and Wong Kwok-king.

Mr. H. Barrett, chief warder of Victoria Gaol, stated that deceased was sentenced to undergo twelve months imprisonment with hard labour on August 21 last. He was transferred to Luncheon Prison on September 4 and re-transferred to Victoria Gaol on September 23, where he died at 12.20 a.m. yesterday. He identified the body at 11.15 a.m. in the presence of Dr. Shaw, as that of Leung Lam.

Dr. G. F. Shaw, medical officer-in-charge of Victoria Gaol, stated that deceased was seen by him on August 22, when he was then put down as an opium addict with chronic tuberculosis, and his condition was fair. Deceased was transferred to Luncheon

FIRST CHURCH OF
CHRIST SCIENTIST*MORTALS AND IMMORTALS
SUBJECT FOR TO-MORROW

Mortals and Immortals will be the lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, to-morrow, November 17, 1935.

The Golden Test will be: "We that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened; not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up to life." (11 Corinthians 5:4).

Among others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any. Came behind him, and touched the border of his garment; and immediately her issue of blood stancheth. And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace." (Luke: 43, 44, 48).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

If sickness is real, it belongs to immortality; if true, it is a part of Truth. Would you attempt with drugs, or without, to destroy a quality or condition of Truth? But if sickness and sin are illusions, the awakening from this mortal dream, or illusion, will bring us into health, holiness, and immortality. The awakening is the forever coming of Christ, the advanced appearing of Truth, which casts out error and heals the sick. This is the salvation which comes through God, the divine Principle, Love, as demonstrated by Jesus. We should understand that the cause of disease obtains in the mortal human mind, and its cure comes from the immortal divine Mind. We should prevent the images of disease from taking form in thought; and we should offset the outlines of disease already formulated in the minds of mortals. (Page 230, 174-5).

kok and re-transferred to Victoria Gaol. He was found to be suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis which had become active. From September 23 deceased rapidly became worse, until he died. A post mortem was conducted yesterday and the cause of death was found to be pulmonary tuberculosis with cardiac failure as a secondary cause. Dr. Shaw expressed the opinion that though deceased was an opium addict, that fact had nothing to do with the cause of his death.

A verdict of death from natural causes was returned by the jury.

MACHINERY THEFTSORGANISED GANG IN THE COLONY

Members of an alleged gang of machinery thieves were brought before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy yesterday. They were Leung Shing, aged 40, Leung Kwan, aged 35, and Chan Kwong, aged 21, all unemployed, charged with (a) larceny of an electric pump from 418, Jaffe Road and (b) larceny of an electric motor from 230, Jaffe Road.

Prosecuting, Detective-Sergeant D. Fitches stated that during the past two or three months an epidemic of larcenies of articles of machinery had taken place. When people moved from their houses they left their pumps behind until they could return for them. The articles, subject of the charges, were found in the yard at the rear of No. 34, Percival Street, packed in a basket with straw packing.

Sent to Canton

The defendants all admitted having stolen the articles from two different addresses on the same day. There was nothing known against any of the defendants, but they were all members of an organized gang. They admitted at least four other thefts during the past week.

Sergeant Fitches added that the machinery was packed in baskets and shipped on to Canton. The Police were now endeavouring to get all machinery previously shipped, back in the Colony from Canton. The present defendants were not the "brains" of the gang, but only committed the thefts. The pump was valued at $110 and the motor at $60.

The prosecuting officer asked his Worship to take a very serious view of the case, as the Police thought that the public should be protected from these people.

Sentence of four months' hard labour was imposed on each defendant on each charge, the terms to be consecutive.

BADMINTON SEASON STARTS: RUNAWAY VICTORIES

G. R. M. RICKETTS

Hongkong Loses Fine Sportsman

(By "Veritas").

G. R. M. Ricketts yesterday left the Colony for home by the P. and O. Ranchi, and no sportsman could depart in a greater blaze of glory. Unfortunately it is feared Ricketts has gone for good.

As soon as Ricketts arrived in Hongkong from Swatow he secured for himself a distinct niche in local sporting activities. His clever spin bowling earned for him a place in the senior H.K.C.C. team and subsequently an Interport cap. In the recent Interport against Shanghai he gave a masterly display of all-round cricket and did as much, if not more, than anybody else to win the game for Hongkong. His fine fighting innings of 42 in Hongkong's second knock and his bowling in Shanghai's concluding innings will long be remembered.

But Ricketts scored successes in other branches of sport. In 1934 he reached the semi-final of the Colony tennis championship and this year went one better and won through to the final. Subsequently he played for Hongkong in the Interport against Canton and had the distinction of leading George Bodiker, Canton's leading European player.

Ricketts was also a fine footballer although he did not play the game here, preferring cricket. But at Oxford he gained his Blue for Association Football.

Hongkong sports circles have lost a striking figure. He is a most accomplished sportsman and everybody will wish him the best of luck in the future.

SMALL UNITS HOCKEY

Playing in the Small Units Knock-out hockey competition at Sookunpoo yesterday, the 12th Heavy Battery R.A. defeated B. Company of the Royal Welch Fusiliers by the odd goal in five.

At half time the teams were on level terms having each scored once. L. Bar. Williams, Sergt. Lacey and Gunnor Harris netted for the winners, whose team was: Edmunds; Wilson and Harper; Dixon, Bliton and Aldridge; Lacey, Collings and Williams, Harris and Delmot.

FIRE BRIGADE SHOW THEIR STRENGTH

St. John's Fighting Defeat: Mixed Doubles Results

(By "Veritas").

The opening of the badminton league season last night saw three teams score runaway victories in mixed doubles encounters, when the Recreio "A" holders of the championship beat St. Andrew's by nine clear games and both the Fire Frigate and Recreio "B" won by eight games to one. St. John's put up a fight against the Chinese Recreation Club securing three games before going down to defeat.

Despite the one-sided scores exceptionally good badminton was served up indicating a general all-round improvement on last year's standard.

At St. Andrew's the home team found the champions in irresistible form, and only in three games could the Saints reach double figures. They finally aggregated 72 points against the Recreio's 180.

In F. Fincher and Mrs. Dawson showed promise of better things to come when they have settled down, and they put up distinctly good showings in two games, sending the visitors' first and second pairs all out before admitting defeat.

The Saints' other two couples, however, were somewhat outclassed, the Recreio being much too fast for them.

At the Central Police Headquarters, the Fire Brigade, chief challengers to the Recreio "A" for the title started the campaign well within an 8-1 win against Talkoo.

The powerful Mr. and Mrs. Shute combination were unapproachable winning their three games with the loss of 15 points. Miss Madge Griffiths also enjoyed a successful debut with W. N. Smith winning all three games and conceding, but 16 points.

Nevertheless perhaps the most creditable display of the evening came from Mr. Charlie Summers and his daughter, Miss R. Summers who defeated A. L. Fisher and Mrs. Wild 21-11. Miss Summers, who only started playing the game last season revealed remarkable improvement.

At the Recreio, the match between the "B" team and Kowloon Tong started on a promising note, when

S. A. Gray and Miss Alison Mackenzie and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Sousa led off with a settled game after a succession of keen rallies.

The Portuguese couple were leading 10-10 and 20-14. Then, aided by two lucky net-cord shots the Kowloon pair crept up to 20-all and finally clinched the game at 23-21.

But the well-balanced Recreio team proceeded to secure a winning lead and finally won the match with the loss of but one game.

After a shaky start G. A. White made a big improvement in his last two games, but the decisive overhead work of the Recreio men was always good enough to turn the game in their favour.

GOOD MATCH AT CATHEDRAL

The Chinese Recreation Club made an auspicious start by beating St. John's on the Cathedral court. Three games were conceded, all by C. Y. Yung and Miss G. Mok the third string.

But the teams were well matched and St. John's have no reason to be dejected about this first result. F. H. Kwok and Miss M. Smith played well together and will win lots of games before the season is ended. S. W. Liang and Miss Khoo were very impressive for the winners.

The results in detail follow.

MIXED DOUBLES

St. Andrew's v. Recreio "A"
Played at St. Andrew's, the Recreio winning by nine games to love and 180 points to 72.

F. F. Fincher and Mrs. Dawson (St. Andrew's) lost to M. A. Oliveira and Miss M. Silva 12-21; lost to J. J. Remedios and Miss C. Silva 12-21; lost to H. A. Alves and Miss O. Ribeiro 4-21.

H. Kow and Miss M. Chura (St. Andrew's) lost to Oliveira and Silva 6-21; lost to Remedios and Silva 8-21; lost to Alves and Ribeiro 10-21.

A. E. P. Guest and Miss F. Wong (St. Andrew's) lost to Oliveira and Silva 7-21; lost to Remedios and Silva 6-21; lost to Alves and Ribeiro 0-21.

Recreio "B" v. Kowloon Tong
Played at Recreio, the hostess team winning by eight games to one, and 180 points to 72 points.

Mr. and Mrs. E. da Sousa (Recreio) lost to S. A. Gray and Miss A. Mackenzie 21-23; beat P. C. Leung and Miss M. Bryson 21-5; beat Mr. and Mrs. G. A. White 2-17.

L. A. Silva and Miss S. Remedios (Recreio) beat Gray and Mackenzie 21-16; beat Leung and Bryson 21-2; 21-16.

PORTUGAL UNCERTAIN OF LINE-UP

THE INTERNATIONAL CHARITY CUP

DEPENDS ON BELTRAO'S ANKLE

WELL-BALANCED ENGLAND TEAM SHOULD WIN

TO-MORROW'S INTERNATIONAL CHARITY CUP MATCH

(By "Veritas").

It's "Coop Day" in Hongkong to-morrow. England meets Portugal in the first match of this season's Sunday Herald International Charity Cup competition, and it should be a rousing game. On paper form it would be difficult to find two better matched teams, and because of this I am going to start by refusing to attempt to forecast the result.

When the selectors can afford to pick men like Wolverston, Stevens, Johnson and Bickford as reserves it is a pretty sure indication (unless the selectors have gone all wrong) that the team is powerful.

In this case the nominated team will, I think, meet with fairly general approval. Perhaps the inclusion of Fowler on the right wing is somewhat optimistic a gesture, but the remainder of the eleven very nearly picked themselves.

Sydney Strange's present form made it imperative that he should get a place despite the undoubted ability and very real claims of Wolverston. Swain's showing for the Services against the Rest last Monday serves only to emphasise that he will make an ideal partner for Sydney.

There can be no quibbling about Durham's inclusion. He has had previous experience of representative football, and in any case has but few superiors as a goalkeeper in local football.

PRETTY COMPLIMENT

A pretty and well deserved compliment has been paid to Robertson in giving him the captaincy of the team. At the present time "Robbie" gives first place to nobody as the finest spoiling right half in the Colony. I have a feeling there is an Interport cap waiting for him in the locker if he cares to. Oh! Well! Rugby is a darn good game, anyhow!

Lawton and Bowers both gave evidence of their value to any team by last Monday's display, and from this distance the half back line looks fully capable of dealing with the Portuguese attack—even if it does include A. V. Gosano.

Have you noticed the forward line is practically an Army outfit? I am glad to see Sandford has been recognised. I was thoroughly impressed with his work last season when in junior football and he has proved his value in the East Lancs. first string this year. Fowler is assured of a good supply of passes. I only hope he will make full use of them.

One expected to see Higgins and Ridley in the team but it is perhaps a little bit surprising to find Bickford has been passed over for Baldry. Of course the Armistice Day match did the trick. On such form Baldry must be given preference.

BELTRAO UNCERTAIN

It is impossible definitely to state Portugal's team. Practically everything hinges on Beltrao. Right at the moment he has an ankle injury. He is going to use to-day's match against the Club as a means of testing it. If it stands up then Beltrao will play. And not only play. He will captain the side.

Something like fourteen players have been invited to be prepared to play, but the probable team is:

Marques; Costa and A. V. Gosano; Marques, Beltrao and Elmas; Alves, Gomes, B. Gosano, Ward and T. Castilho.

If Beltrao reports himself unfit there will probably be some reshuffling of positions. A. V. Gosano will in all likelihood go up to centre-half. But actually no decision will be made until to-night. But with or without Beltrao, Portugal will be strongly represented. Of course his absence would mean a decided loss for he is a most valuable player to any team and by no means easy to replace.

The forward line is bound to prove troublesome. The Gomes, Gosano, Ward trio is good enough and clever enough to upset the best of defences and the two wingers are very reliable.

Ward and Gosano are capable of winning the match themselves, although Bernie will have to show some improvement on his last outing.

But the players are all so well known that it is somewhat superfluous to make detailed comments on the team. It is an extremely well balanced combination, and if the players are on form, without a weak link.

The following will represent the Radio Sports Club in a Mamak Hockey Tournament match against the Royal Engineers at Caroline Hill to-morrow at 4.30.

J. B. Souza; A. E. P. Guest and J. Singh Grewal; L. B. Kitchell, Hanib and Jaggeet Singh; Jurin Singh, Saragat Singh, G. Singh, Kalwant Singh and F. A. Kemp. Reserves: Jangier Singh, Bhagwan Singh and M. D. Souza.

TO-DAY'S SOCCER PROGRAMME

SOME IMPORTANT MATCHES

(By "Veritas").

No less than twelve first division teams are scheduled for engagements to-day—one of the heaviest Saturday programmes of the season.

Both South China teams and even the Athletic have matches; and at least two encounters promise to be among the most attractive of the season.

The Police, who have leapt into championship form are entertaining South China "B." It ought to be a "wow" of a match. And then the Club are over at King's Park trying conclusions with the Recreio. The Club are without Robertson—a severe blow, but otherwise the team remains similar to that which ran South China "A" to the odd goal a week ago.

King's Park has never been a very happy hunting ground for the Club. It is small and enclosed and with the spectators almost touching the touching invariably has an adverse psychological effect on Happy Valleyites.

Another Queen's Title For Borotra

DOUBLES WIN WITH MISS SCRIVEN

Miss King Outwits Frenchman

By A. Wallis Myers

London, Oct. 23.
The Queen's gallery had their last view this year of Joan Borotra yesterday, when the French champion returned to carry off the mixed doubles title for the second successive year with Miss M. C. Scriven.

He played and won two matches virtually on end, the second in artistic light.

In the first, the holders opposed Lynght and Miss Yorko, a pair with plenty of match experience, who, in distinction to the solemn mien of the majority of British players in these days, always look as if they are enjoying the game.

Once more Miss Yorko showed her real flair for the doubles game. Yet, although she had more volleying strokes than Miss Scriven, she was not quite as cool in the crisis, and a pair of double faults in the eighth game of the first set cost her side a 6-3 lead.

In the second set Borotra and his partner established what looked like an unbreakable lead. And so it actually proved, but Miss Scriven dropped her service, and a 10-game set resulted—a good match, which might have been closer still if Lynght had not been too "merry" at the wrong time.

Miss Scriven's sound lobs was a feature of the match. She forced a lofted reply, which gave the running Basque scope for the downward blow.

MISS KING'S SKILL

In the final against Wilde and Miss V. K. King, the Bristol girl showed what a fine player she had become by "catching out" Borotra many times, and showing a cool hand under pressure.

Well supported by her partner, her side won the first set, and made a courageous bid for the third. Unluckily, when Miss King was serving, Wilde missed an easy smash, and also took a ball sailing well out of court.

These mistakes wiped out the advantage of capturing Borotra's service and allowed the Basque to serve out his side to victory when his delivery came round again.

The sports experts told us that what with laterals and the like, American football would be different this season. The first inter-collegiate tilt of the year at San Francisco brought out this play, in which Santa Clara University's guards made a touchdown against University of San Francisco. Emery Delmas (49) blocked a first-down punt by Ray Peterson (44). U. S. F. halfback, on the 15-yard line, and Lionel Rodger (51), the other Santa Clara guard, fell on the ball as it rolled across the goal line.

BADMINTON PLAYER LEAVING COLONY

LOSS TO THE CLUB DE RECREIO

Badminton at the Club de Recreio is to suffer a real loss next week, when L. A. Silva, a prominent player leaves the Colony for Europe and later Brazil to be married. Silva who was fast developing into one of the leading exponents at the Recreio, last night figured prominently in the success of the "B" team against Kowloon when he and his partner won all three games with the loss of 22 points. Silva's overhead work was a feature of a fine display, and local badminton will be the poorer by his departure.

Cunningham 21-2; beat Summers and Summers 21-7.
A. L. Fisher and Mrs. Wild (Fire Brigade) beat Stalton and Summers 21-4; beat Norrie and Cunningham, 21-10; lost to Summers and Summers 11-21.

St. John's v. C.R.C.

Played at the Cathedral Chinese Recreation Club winning by six games to three and 139 points to 126. F. H. Kwok and Miss M. Smith (St. John's) lost to S. W. Liang and Miss U. Khoo 14-21; lost to W. C. Choy and Miss W. Cheung 8-21; beat C. Y. Yung and Miss G. Mok 21-19; C. A. Smith and Miss Dowling (St. John's) lost to Liang and Khoo 10-21; lost to Choy and Cheung 12-21; beat Yung and Mok 21-7.

R. Koh and Miss P. McCaw (St. John's) lost to Liang and Khoo 11-21; lost to Choy and Cheung 8-21; beat Yung and Mok 21-6.

SWIMMERS FOR OLYMPIAD

AMERICAN TEAM SAIL

MEDLEY RELAY TRIO

New York, Oct. 11.

The American A.A.U. champion medley relay swimming team sailed October 9 for Hamburg, Germany, to compete in exhibition meets which will offer the first test of Nazi feeling toward foreign athletes of un-sanctioned race or religion.

Inasmuch as there has been great apprehension in many countries over the influence anti-semitic doctrines and religious prejudice may exert on the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, I believe our tour abroad will be especially significant. The team is composed of Art Highland, Max Bryndenthal and Adolph Kiefer, says Stanley Branninger, A.A.U. Swimming Coach and Physical Director, Chicago Lakeside A. C.

I expect only the most cordial welcome from the Nazi sportsmen, as I have travelled through Germany with Athletic teams before and we always were accorded the utmost respect.

Highland, who swims the free style leg on the Medley team, is a former National intercollegiate champion and in 1934 was National 100 metre champion.

Bryndenthal is famous for his "flying breast stroke. He finished second in the National intercollegiate championships last March.

Adolph Kiefer, who recently celebrated his seventeenth birthday, has broken all world backstroke records. He is unquestionably one of the greatest swimmers of all time.

The trip to Germany was at the request of R. O. Brewitz, chairman of the German swimming Federation, who will direct the Olympic swimming meet next Summer.

After leaving Germany we will tour Europe, but our interest at present centres in Germany, as these boys are certain to return to Berlin in 1936 as members of the United States Olympic Swimming team and they are anxious to test the attitude of the German people.—United Press.

Leeds United have completed negotiations for the transfer of Robert Browne, the Derry City half-back, who was a member of the Irish League team which defeated the Football League at Blackpool last month.

M.C.C. Eleven Have Only Forty Minutes' Play

Melbourne, Nov. 15.
A four-day cricket match between the M. C. C. Tourists on their way to New Zealand, and Victoria, was confined to but forty minutes' play owing to rain.

Victoria won the toss and batted for the forty minutes, scoring 30 runs for the loss of one wicket.—Reuter.

THE H.K.C.C.

To-day's Teams v. Kowloon C.C.

The following have been chosen to represent the Hongkong Cricket Club in their Senior Division match against the Kowloon Cricket Club on the K.C.C. ground to-day starting at 2 p.m.—A. W. Hayward (Capt.), D. W. Forster, L. D. Kilbee, P. C. Frost, E. B. Duckitt, T. A. Pearce, S. McInnes, G. S. Duckley, L. T. Ride, G. R. Sayer.

The following have been selected to play in the Second Division fixture of the Hongkong Cricket Club against the Kowloon Cricket Club at the H.K.C.C. ground commencing at 2 p.m. to-day: R. S. W. Patterson (Capt.), G. A. Milbank, F. A. Dunnett, K. A. Whipples, H. W. Baines, F. H. King, W. Wooding, M. Fienness, F. C. B. Beach.

LADIES' GOLF

Draw For Railway Cup Competition

The following is the draw for the Railway Cup Competition organised by the Ladies' Section of the Royal Hongkong Golf Club:

First Round: Mrs. Blake v. Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Timson v. Mrs. Whyte Smith.

Byes: Miss Crapnell v. Mrs. Redmond; Mrs. Jusseland v. Mrs. Walker; Mrs. Williamson v. Mrs. Mackenzie; Miss Stevenson v. Mrs. Toffey; Mrs. Hillier v. Mrs. Sommerfeld; Mrs. Roberts v. Mrs. McGowan; Mrs. Shannon v. Mrs. Newbigging.

The first round is to be completed by December 3; the second round by December 17; third round by January 8; and the semi-final round by January 22.

The first named player is responsible for fixing the match.

out to-day. He wants to find out whether his ankle is ready to stand up to a hard game. As he will take over his usual position at centre-half, it will enable A. V. Gosano to remain at back.

I can't see the Club winning this game.

MILITARY "DERBY"

The Athletic ought to have a very comfortable win against the R.A. (Stonecutters), but what about the military "Derby." Lincoln v. Fusiliers? The Royal Welch have a more imposing record than the Lincolns, but without Keenaghan, and in view of the Lincolns' improved form, the result may go contrary to expectations. The Fusiliers should just about pull it off, but a draw would not be surprising.

The Navy have a ticklish little proposition being opposed to St. Joseph's, who started the season in dashing style, but have revealed a decline more recently. The Saints hope to see Gurbachan Singh restored to centre-forward and it is possible that his presence will help the Saints to victory.

At the moment the Navy have rather limited resources, but whether the Fleet is in or out they can generally turn out a pretty useful side and I expect to see them win again to-day.

MAMAK HOCKEY

Argonauta Eleven For To-morrow

The following will represent the Argonauta hockey eleven against the Police "A" in the Mamak Tournament fixture on the Police Training School ground at 10.30 a.m. to-morrow: N. Farrin, L. SAFE WAY TO REDUCE

39 lbs. Off—and She Feels Better

A woman who has found a sure, safe way to lose fat—without freak dieting or dangerous drugs—writes:

"A year ago I was eaten up with rheumatism and was fat too fat. I weighed 11 stone, and, as my height is only 5 feet 3 inches, you can judge my appearance. I have taken Kruschen regularly, and not dieted, and now I weigh 8 st. 3 lbs., which is just nice, and, further, I feel better in health and my rheumatism has vanished."—(Mrs.) D. N.

Unlike certain drastic drugs, Kruschen does not aim to reduce by rushing food through the body; its action is not confined to a single part of the system. It has a tonic influence upon every organ of elimination, every gland, every nerve, every vein. Gently but surely, it rids the system of all fat-forming food refuse, of all poisons and harmful acids which give rise to rheumatism, digestive disorders, and many other ills. You will find that Kruschen builds up remarkable new strength and energy, whilst you are training yourself down to a point of normal weight.

SERIAL STORY

DONNA'S BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

CHAPTER XXX

Bill had a bad hour alone. He had had to fight his jealousy before. Many times, watching Donna working about the kitchen, he had contrasted her present life with her past, and a little green devil perched on his shoulder, whispering things he strove to put out of his mind. Often he had marvelled that anyone so lovely, so wholly desirable, should have given herself to him.

But his jealousy before had not been turned toward any individual. Now he knew that his wife, the glorious creature who spelled the heights of heaven for him—had written a letter to another man, a man she had once been accustomed to seeing daily. Striding along, the raw wind whipping colour in his cheeks, Bill fought his battle. Fresh air did much to give him a clearer view of the situation. If he refused to believe her explanation that she had never written the man before and that the letter concerned her former partner, Bill would have to disbelieve everything she had said in the past. He would have to acknowledge their whole marriage a failure.

And if she had cared for this fellow, why had she married Bill? Looking at the matter calmly, he felt ashamed of himself, and when he returned to the house at five o'clock he was contrite and ready to beg forgiveness. Thus again Donna lost the opportunity to tell him that Madeline had married Con, and that Con was now a widower.

It was not easy for Bill to apologize. Humble pie? Donna? Looking at him but once he made up his mind to do anything unpleasant, he went through with it.

Donna was frying chicken in the kitchen, a rather warm smile on her face as she closed her ears to Minnie's gabble. When Bill walked in unceremoniously and said he wanted to speak to her at once she anticipated another scene.

"I'm busy, Bill. Wait until I finish this."

"Can't. Let Minnie do it."

Donna gave Minnie the fork she had been using to turn the fragrant brown morsels and stepped into the pantry which opened into a hall leading to the dining room.

Bill waited until the swinging door closed. Then he caught her in his arms and crushed his mouth over hers.

"I'm sorry," he mumbled; "I was a cad. Forgive me."

"Oh Bill!" Donna sobbed happily.

"Oh, Bill, I wish I had showed you the letter! It was horrid of me to tear it up! I should have—"

"No, you did the right thing. I was a brute to doubt you. Common sense should have told me there couldn't be anything to it and that you were cured for that fellow. If you'll forgive me I'll never be jealous again."

"Of course I forgive you! And I want to tell you what was in the letter."

"I don't want to hear it. I don't deserve to know."

"Confession at the moment, with Bill's arms holding her close, Bill's lips against her hair, would have been very sweet and soul-cleansing and would have prevented many future heartaches. But Bill's attitude, his desire to be generous and chivalrous prevented confidences and Donna slipped from his embrace with the words unspoken.

He followed her into the kitchen and watched her continue preparing supper, feeling a glow of satisfaction in having mastered an ugly passion and a pride in her beauty and cleverness.

"You know, Honey," he said as she slipped the chicken on a blue platter and stirred cream and flour into the browned butter to make gravy, "now that Grandpop is better we ought to get out a little. All work and no play—you know the rest of it. Why, it's been weeks and weeks since we've seen a picture show or had any kind of amusement. What say we take the old bus and go into town tonight? Sometimes they have pretty good pictures at the Elite."

"I'd like it," Donna answered. "Do you think Grandfather would mind?" "He'd be the first to urge us to go. You know Miss Perkins looks after him as if he was a baby, and he'll be asleep long before we get home. Hurry up with supper, then, doll up your prettiest and we'll go off in a spree."

She smiled, looking him the more for his ability to cut aside trouble and to play, small boy fashion. It was a very good meal, for Donna had become a proficient cook, but only Miss Perkins had any appetite. Minnie grumbled as she took away plates of fluffy biscuits, mounds of chicken and mashed potatoes, and muttered, "Wonder what you want to go to all this trouble for if nobody wants anything to eat."

After nibbling at a deep-dish cherry pie Donna ran upstairs and drew from the closet a shimmering brown dress of chiffon velvet. Bill watched her in abject admiration as she slipped the russet folds over her gleaming copper hair. The beauty of her firm young arms and snowy throat had never ceased to awe him.

A dampened brush set the waves in her hair and she was ready to leave.

"Have to get you a fur coat," Bill said as he held her heavy cloak.

"Winters out here get pretty severe."

"I have one in storage. I must send for it." Then—she—sudden thought that the mink garment stored in New York was being held for Donna Gabriel made her wish she had not spoken.

"But," she added, laughing, "if I'm cold I've a good excuse to cuddle up to you."

"As if you needed an excuse!"

The ride to town was sheer delight after the emotional storm of the morning. As in the days of their courtship, Bill drove with one hand and kept his other arm around her. Now and then when a cold, silvery moon hid behind a bank of clouds or became obscured by the overlapping branches of fir trees he bent and kissed her.

Bill found a spot on a side street to park the car. Then he insisted upon taking Donna into Grantley's drug store for a soda. "We'll do it up brown tonight," he said. "Be regular yokels out celebrating."

As she sat before the soda fountain Donna could see the lights of the Elite Picture House across the square. The lights twinkled on and off, but it wasn't until Bill walked up to the box office and handed over a dollar for two tickets that she realized the evening's attraction was "Polly of the Circus."

Had there been another picture theatre in the town or a concert, or even a skating rink Donna would have told her husband she did not care to see the picture and suggested that they find other entertainment. But they found other entertainment.

"Polly of the Circus" or nothing, and Bill was grinning happily over his shoulder at her.

"Great, isn't it, Maddy? You ought to enjoy this show. It'll take you back to old times."

The theatre was crowded and they stood in line at the back for several minutes waiting for an usher to find seats for them. Donna could not see the screen, but she closed her eyes and prayed that nothing she would see or hear would bring back the tragedy of Madeline's death.

She could shut her eyes, in the darkness, against anything too poignant to endure, but she could not close her ears. As she and Bill moved down the aisle her heart was pounding and a wild impulse to flee almost overpowered her.

Bill seemed to be enjoying himself hugely. Simple in tastes, with small opportunity for amusement, he would have been a movie fan had he possessed the time. He found Donna's hand and closed his over it, then settled back with a sigh of contentment. It wasn't long, however, until he became conscious that she was trembling.

"Cold, sweetheart?" he whispered.

"No."

Donna, knowing that he was watching her, forced herself to look at the moving figures on the screen. Everything she saw there and every word uttered that had to do with circus life was like a knife thrust in her heart. When the heroine was injured in an accident a smothered cry came from Donna's lips.

"Bill, I'm—I'm ill!" she stammered miserably. "Let's go home."

"Ill? Why, you were all right when we left the house. What is it? Do you think the ride—?"

"I don't know, but I can't stay. I can't stay!" Half-hysterical, she arose, pushed past him and ran up the aisle as though in leaving the darkened auditorium she could leave behind the memories that tortured her.

Bill, dismayed and disappointed, followed her. Outside, in the car, Donna crouched in one corner and sobbed as though her heart were broken.

"Maddie! Maddie!" cried the bewildered man. "What is it? What is wrong?"

Then, as she did not answer, the suspicion that he had succeeded in crushing but could not kill reared its ugly head again. "Was it the picture?" he asked. "Don't you want to be reminded of the circus?"

"My fall—and everything—"

Donna managed to say.

"Yes, it was your fall that brought you here and changed you from a butterfly into a grub. God, I should have known better than to tie you down like this! If just seeing a circus movie can send you into hysterics—"

"Bill! You don't understand!"

"Oh, yes, I do. I understand perfectly. And I'm not blaming you, Honey. I'm blaming myself."

But he did not put his arm around her during the drive home and the kiss he gave her when she bade him good night was coolly impersonal.

Escape winter and the Servant Problem in South-Devon

In the mellow climate of South Devon the English winter loses its terror for those home from the East. At Churston there are houses especially designed to capture every moment's sunshine and carefully planned to require the minimum of labour. They overlook a beautiful seascap, are completely secluded, and protected against mass development, yet conveniently near Paignton, Torbay and various golf courses. We shall be pleased to send you free a booklet describing Churston and our four other thoughtfully planned Dartington estates, Paignton, Dittisham, Exeter and Carlyn. Write to:

NEW SOLICITOR
ADMITTEDMR. D'ARCY S.
CURTIS

Mr. D'Arcy Stewart Curtis was admitted to practise as a solicitor in the local Courts by the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor at the Supreme Court this morning.

The application was moved by the Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, K.C., who said: This is a motion under sections 20, 21, and 22 of the Legal Practice Ordinance of 1871 for the admission as a solicitor to this honourable court of Mr. D'Arcy Stewart Curtis. I am instructed that Mr. Curtis is the son of Mr. F. J. F. Curtis, a member of the Council of the Law Society of England and the head of the well-known legal firm of Messrs. Simpson, Curtis and Burrill of Leeds. He is 33 years of age and received his education at Charterhouse and Cambridge University of which he is an M. A. He was admitted as a solicitor of the Supreme Court of England on June 1, 1929 and in the same year was elected a member of the Law Society of England. He has now come out to join the firm of Messrs. Woo and Woo. Due notice has been given for the application and the affidavits are attached to the file. I now beg to move the application.

His Lordship: The papers appear to be completely in order and it gives me great pleasure to accede to the request. May I add, Mr. Curtis, that I hope your professional life here will be successful and happy.

CORRESPONDENCE

Safety Glass

(To The Editor, Hongkong Telegraph.)

Sir,—The attention of the Committee of the Hongkong Automobile Association has been drawn to traffic regulation No. 132 which refers to motor vehicles being fitted with Safety Glass. The regulation reads as follows: "All glass fitted to windcreens or windows facing to the front on the outside of any motor vehicle shall be of safety glass. (Provided that this regulation shall not apply until January 1937 to any motor vehicle licensed on or before the 1st January, 1936)."

I am instructed by this Committee to state that the Government of this Colony have kindly consented to extend, in the case of cars already licensed for use in the Colony in 1935, the time limit for compliance with the requirements regarding safety glass until the expiry of the year 1939. It is felt that this information will be appreciated by the motorists of this Colony.

G. E. S. UPDELL,

HON. SECRETARY.

Stirling & Clackmannan
Mr. Tom Johnston (Lab.) ... 16,015
Mr. Duff (Con.) ... 13,053

STABILISATION
IN RUSSIAFIVE-TO-ONE WITH U.S. DOLLAR

Moscow, Nov. 15.

The Soviet Government are attempting to fix the stabilisation of the rouble at a rate of five to one with the U.S. dollar to be effective as from December 1.

The decree, published to-day, does not state whether there will be a gold backing for the rouble, or whether there will be legislation which will provide for legal cover.—United Press.

point of view the high percentage of failures in record-hunting flights is bad for the flying industry. It makes it seem that flying is not safe, whereas, over established airlines, it is fool-proof. We have fields to conquer, new trade routes of the air to explore. The organised airways of the world will do these things in good time and when it is necessary. We do not mean this comment to be construed as criticism of Miss Batten's endeavours. Her contribution to the science of flying has been considerable, and we should be the first to congratulate her on any further successes or to sympathise in the event of a mishap. Our admiration for Miss Batten does not alter our opposition to such unofficial path-finding as she and other pilots, men and women, have recently attempted.
